

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXX.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1905.

12 Pages

NO. 17

Negro Saves Life By Running From Crowd of Angry Men.

Jim Hay, a well-known negro character about town, saved his life Saturday afternoon solely through his sprinting ability. He was pursued by a crowd of angry white men for threatening injury to a white boy, through a part of the town, but he easily outmaneuvered them and escaped. He seemed to have a desire to run, instead of putting up a fight, and he was advised to run by white men who were spectators to the affair and had no part in it.

There seems to be several stories of how the affair started, but as near as can be learned it was as follows: Ray called Pearl Hawkins, a young man of about eighteen, a liar and threatened to hit him with a stone. Young Hawkins' father, Tom Hawkins, whose home is in the Mattingly neighborhood, other members of the Hawkins family and relatives and neighbors of the same, resented Ray's actions, real and pretended, and started after him. The affair began on the river bank, in the rear of F. T. Heger's store. Ray ran up Elm street to A. R. Fisher's drug store, and turning east on Wall street, continued his flight. His pursuers quickly fell behind him, though several missiles were thrown by them and came near hitting him. One of his pursuers had an open knife in his hand, it is said, and there were cries of "Kill him!" "Shoot him!" etc. Marshall DeHaven stopped the crowd pursuing Ray near Dr. Owen's office and quieted the disturbance.

A large crowd of men were attracted by the affair and excitement was tense for a short time. There is hardly any doubt that Ray would have been killed by the men pursuing him if they had caught him.

Newsom's Success at Leitchfield.

Evangelist J. T. Newsom, of Murphysboro, Ill., has just closed a successful meeting at the M. E. church, South at Leitchfield, there being seventy-five conversions. Rev. Newsom conducted the big revival here last spring.

An Incident of a Slumber Party.

As it happened, there was a slumber party in town last Saturday night given by Miss Ray Lewis Hoyer, to nine of her girl friends. The boys were in until 11:30 p. m., when they had to go. These creatures felt a little bad because they could not stay all night and so had to work their badness in a way that proved very troublesome to the girls. At the beginning the boys repaired to a secret room and drew up plans for their operations. This convention was disturbed when it was in the midst of the deepest thoughts by the ever-ready-on-the-spot young ladies. Being caught, politeness required their retreat to the parlor. However, this did not stop the boys and two of them began operations. A ten minute leave of absence was gotten from the hostess on a false plea that urgent business required their attention. Incidentally, the boys returned with three bags of sugar. As it happened, the beds in the girl's slumber room were arranged so as to make three in one. Out over the porch and into a window of the girl's chamber the boys went. Sugar, sugar all over the beds, kindling, kindling, tucked in under every sheet. Hair brushes, clothes, shoes, haversacks, everything was heaped into the beds. The remainder of the story can be best told by any one of the nine slumberers. Of course all of them enjoyed their nap in the midst of all the sugar. A kindling wool gently, sweetly in their beds by "their dear old boys."

J. D.

Scrofula
Is very often acquired, though generally inherited. Bad hygiene, foul air, impure water, are among its causes. It is called "the soil for tubercles," and where it is allowed to remain tuberculous or consumption is pretty sure to take root. Hood's Sarsaparilla Removes every trace of scrofula. Get Hood's.
For testimonials of remarkable cures and for Book on Scrofula, No. 1, C. L. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

In Honor of Miss Heyser.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Heyser gave a slumber party Saturday night in honor of their daughter, Miss Ray Lewis Hoyer. The nine girls who were at this party can put the story of it in their diary on the page entitled "The Times of My Life," for they had an unusually good time and were entertained beautifully. The guests were: Misses Martha Willis, Lola Margaret Sever, Mabel Pelt, Katherine Moorman, Annie Jarbo, Jennie Mabel Harris, Margaret Moorman, A. Louise Habbage, Ray Lewis Hoyer. From 8 to 11 o'clock a games contest was given for the guests and to this the following accepted invitations: Misses Cleora Weatherholt, Grace Perry, Donald Murray, Elma Jurico, Lola Owen, Messrs. Walter Oelze, Ira Behen, J. D. Dablage, Jr., Laff Behen, Lawrence A. Murray, Harry Weatherholt, David Murray; Mr. and Mrs. James Younger and Mr. and Mrs. Shelly Connor.

Ninety Additions in Three Years.

A protracted meeting, closed at the Baptist church at Garfield last Thursday evening, with eight conversions. The baptizing took place Friday morning, seven persons being baptized. It was a successful all round meeting, the attendance being good and the church revived. Rev. E. B. English, the pastor, and Rev. J. T. Lewis, of this city, conducted the meeting. In the past three years Rev. Lewis has assisted in three protracted meetings at this church, the results of which have been ninety conversions and about eighty-five additions.

Dr. Hardaway, Union Star, Nov. 16.

Dr. A. M. Hardaway will be at Union Star November 16, 17, 18, for the practice of dentistry.

Our Magazine Section.

Following are the special features of our magazine section this week: CONSELLO ENCOURAGES SEX. Lighter of Vandebilt's sex improved conditions in field of labor. COAL STRIKE PROBABLE. Agreement made three years ago between miners and operators expires next April.

THE HUMAN FLY. Remarkable exploit of a winged hanger who claims tall buildings.

A SINGULAR COMBINATION. Rides Hanged, a noted fiction writer, model farmer and political economist.

DESTROYING THE QUEER. Large sums of captured counterfeiters burned up and melted by the government.

AN INCIDENT OF THE SEPOY MUTINY. A short story.

THE AMERICAN GRAPE INDUSTRY. A great and increasing branch of horticulture.

CHICKENS AS GARDENERS. Can be taught to pull weeds and harvest grain.

AMONG WILD BEASTS. Crocodiles, lions and hippopotami among lives of railway builders in Africa.

Young Ball's Body Brought Home.

Mattingly, Ky., Nov. 7. (Special.)—The remains of Robert Ball, son of Gid Ball, who died in the Philippine Islands in 1904, arrived last Saturday at McQuady. His father's home, and was interred there Sunday. Ball was the second son of Mr. Ball's who has died in the Philippines.

Mrs. Gid Horsley Dead.

Garfield, Ky., Nov. 7. (Special.)—Mrs. Gid Horsley died of pneumonia Friday. The interment was at the family burying ground Saturday.

Blaine-Hawkins.

Harmon Blaine and Miss Lee Hawkins were married Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Siles Hawkins, in the Hites Run neighborhood. Rev. J. F. Winchell performed the ceremony. Mr. Blaine is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Blaine, of near Stephensport.

Big Coal Operator Here.

Byrd Davis, of Kenosha, Ky., a big coal operator and member of the Main Jellies Mountain Coal company, was here part of last week looking over local manufacturing interests. Mr. Davis visited the Patton brick yard and the Murray Roofing Tile company's plant, and was especially pleased with the products manufactured by the latter company.

Crossfield To Preach Here.

Rev. R. H. Crossfield, pastor of the Christian church at Owensboro, will preach at the Presbyterian church Friday night, November 10.

Shake. Judge.

It's a Landslide For Democrats.

Full County Ticket is Elected--Owen's Majority Over Lott is Between 800 and 900.

CONSTITUTION'L AMENDMENT LOSES

Citizens' Ticket Wins Over Progressive in City Election--Wills Defeats May, Rep., in Race for Police Judge.

NO SERIOUS DISTURBANCES AT THE POLLS.

The election yesterday resulted in a Democratic landslide in the county and the senatorial district. All the candidates on the Democratic ticket were elected, their majority averaging about 180. Only about a third of the precincts were Republican.

No disturbances of consequence occurred at the polls, so far as reported.

Owen Carries Three Counties

R. W. Owen, Democratic candidate for state senator, defeated J. Y. Lott, the Republican candidate, by about 500 votes in Meade county, 250 in Breckenridge, and 100 in Hancock.

Citizens' Ticket and Wills Win

In the city election, the Citizen's ticket won over the progressive ticket by majorities ranging from 39 to 93, and J. H. Wills, the independent candidate for police judge, defeated Jeff May, the Republican candidate, by 16 votes. The Citizen's ticket is as follows: J. G. Harris, mayor; L. T. Reid, Jno. O'Connell, J. M. Fitch, J. A. Barry, S. H. McCracken, Chas. D. Hook, councilmen.

Elections in Incorporated Towns

Hardsburg, Irvington, Stephensport and Glendean, incorporated towns, had elections with only one ticket in each. At Hardsburg, J. B. Board defeated Levi Voiles and Geo. Lewis for town marshal.

Meade and Hancock Democratic

The Democratic tickets in Meade and Hancock counties were elected.

Survey For Railroad to Mitchell's.

(Hartford Herald.)—The survey of the Madisonville, Hartford & Eastern railroad has been completed from Madisonville to Hartford and this distance is thirty-five miles. The right-of-way from Green river to Mitchell's has been almost secured and the management think they will complete it in thirty days, except a few who have not well considered the benefit of a railroad and are holding out for more money than the company thinks they are entitled to.

As we understand it, the capitalists are ready to contract for the building as soon as right-of-way is secured or guaranteed by local cash.

The surveying crew now has its tents pitched in Hartford and will reach the A. J. Carter farm to-day.

MATTINGLY.

Mr. and Mrs. Remus Pate are quite sick with la grippe.

Sidney Taul and Walter Taul have gone to Missouri.

Jas. Campbell and family of Beechfork, have moved here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ardridge have moved to To Springs.

Little Warfield Hamilton, who has been quite sick, is improving.

George and Jess Taul, of Oakton, Ind., came home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Remus Pate and family will move to Cloverport some time this month.

Mrs. Will Bricker and two children, of Vanant, are visiting Mr. Bricker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bricker.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Muffett, who went to Mahomet, Illinois last August have returned and will make their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Timus and little daughter, Mary Annahel, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Taul, last week.

A Winning Test.

When the Duke of Arundel, whose family name was Talbot, was going to take possession as lord lieutenant of Ireland, he was driven by a storm on to the Isle of Man, where a Rev. Mr. Joseph, a poor curate, entertained him as hospitably as his means permitted. On his departure the duke promised to provide for him as soon as he became vicar. The curate waited many months in vain and at last went over to Dublin to remind his grace of his promise. Despairing of getting access to the duke, he obtained permission to preach at the cathedral. The lord lieutenant and his court were in the church, but none of them remembered their humble last till he pronounced his text, which, it must be acknowledged, was well chosen. "Yet did not the chief builder remember Shiloh, but forgot him." The curate was at once invited to the rectory and a good living provided for him.

The Thelion Sphinx.

The Thelion sphinx was said to be a monster sent by Juno to lay waste the country around Thebes. It had the head and bust of a woman, the body of a lion, and the wings of a bird. The jaws of a lion and a human voice. It at once became the terror of the neighborhood and devoured all who could not solve the riddle which it propounded. "What animal walks on four legs in the morning, two at noon and three at night?" "A woman," answered the promise of King Creon, at his crown and his sister in marriage, came to Thebes and declared that man goes on all fours in infancy, erect on two legs when grown up and supports the frailties of age with a staff. In hearing this correct solution the sphinx dashed her head against a wall, and the land had rest.

The Work of the Heart.

One of the most remarkable things about the heart is the amount of work it does. Considering the organ as a pump whose task is to deliver a known quantity of blood against a known "head," it is easy to show that in twenty-four hours a man's heart does about 124,000 feet of work. "In other words," says a contemporary, "if the whole force expended by the heart in twenty-four hours were gathered into one huge stroke, such a power would lift 124 tons one foot from the ground. A similar calculation has been made respecting the amount of work expended by the muscles involved in breathing. In twenty-four hours these muscles do about twenty-one foot tons of work."

A Chinese Custom.

A quaint custom practiced by Chinese mothers when a child is restless and does not sleep is to write the following verse and pin a copy of it on each of the four corners of the house, that the passerby may read and the child find rest. Literally translated the verse reads:

Brilliant sparkling beauty, Brilliant sparkling earth, In my house there is a child who cries at night. The gentlemen coming from the four quarters behold. Peaceful sleep till break of day.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
HAS NO SUBSTITUTE
A Grain of Tartar Powder, free from alum or phosphatic acid
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Likely to Run Large Boats.

The Louisville and Evansville Packet company will likely have all of its large boats in the through trade this winter.

Goes To Elizabethtown.

Proctor Keith, junior member of the well-known musical firm of J. E. Keith & Son, will leave in a few weeks for Elizabethtown, to accept a position in the monument works of his brother, C. E. Keith. Mr. Keith has been associated with his father in this business for a number of years and has executed some of the best work in the monument line ever seen in this section.

River Surveyors Leave This Week.

The government surveying crew which has been surveying the Ohio river at this point since October 28, expect to leave either today or tomorrow for Hawselle, which will be their base of operations for a time.

Last week all of the parties conducting the survey were working along the city Saturday afternoon all except the sounding party, extended their work to their boat, which is at the lower land where the survey extended to a point half way to Hawselle, the boat and crew will go to Hawselle. The progress of the work now depends more on the stage of the river than anything else, though rain weather has retarded it greatly.

Doctors Meet Today.

The Ohio Valley Medical association meets at Heuleston today and tomorrow.

Ice Siege Not Expected.

River men are rejoicing in the belief that they will escape a severe ice siege this winter. For two years past, the winters have been unusually severe and the cold spells, coming at times when the river was quite low, blocked the channel for weeks. This time, they say, there will be quite a good stage of water at the time when ice begins to flow, otherwise ice would be most likely to form.

They base this belief principally on the prediction of their prophet, E. F. Coe of Pittsburg, that there will be a flood beginning December 1 or 2 and continuing for some time. Practically all of the ice pile of river men have implicit confidence in Coe. They say that he has foretold every flood in the Ohio river for the past twenty years, never missing the time of its coming more than a few hours.

With the American.

A. C. Metcalf came up from Owensboro last week to enter the employ of the American Tobacco company, under L. D. Brasher, the local representative.

Death of Joe Pike.

Joe Pike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fenley Pike, of near Mooreville, Ky., died at the home of his aunt at Kyana, Ind. Saturday morning. Joe sometime his health has been poor from consumption and his death was hurried by a fever. He was a "Dope", as he was familiarly known, was twenty-one years old and a young man of splendid build and enjoyed the friendship and good will of all with whom he came acquainted. His remains were brought through by land from Kyana to Derby, where the family stayed at the home of Mr. S. A. Mitchell until Monday morning at 10:30. Funeral services were held at Flint Island church, Interment at St. Theresa cemetery. Derby Cor. Cannelton Telephone.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Beware of cheap imitations.
Signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer

The Eckenridge News.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1905.

SIMPLE REMEDY

FOR CATARRH.

Just Breathe Hymel Four Times a Day and Be Cured

It a few years ago some one had said you can cure catarrh by breathing air charged with a healing balm, the idea would have been ridiculed, and it remained for that eminent investigator, R. T. Booth, to discover in Hymel this method of cure.

Hymel has performed almost innumerable cures of catarrh, and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hymel costs $1.00, and consists of an Inhaler, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hymel.

Breathe Hymel through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation and effects a complete and lasting cure.

In Cloverport there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hymel. If it does not cure you, Short & Haynes will return the money you pay for Hymel. This is the strongest evidence that can be offered as to their faith in the remedy.

When is Thanksgiving?

A Thanksgiving proclamation by President Roosevelt and one by Mayor Powell, of Henderson, are to be found elsewhere in this issue. President Roosevelt declares November 30 to be Thanksgiving this year and Mayor Powell says November 21 will be the important day of pumpkin pie and turkey and celery and cranberry sauce—and football. Alumnus and the like agree with Mayor Powell. Which is right?

"I Thank The Lord"

cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bile's Arabian Balm. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds, guaranteed at Short & Haynes drug store, 30c.

Comes Near Losing Hand.

Harry Weatherbolt, who has a position at the Henderson Hotel shops as machinist, came near losing his hand in an accident which occurred late afternoon. As he was walking past a lathe, his hand, which was gloved, came in contact with two cog wheels and was drawn between them. With quick presence of mind, he wrenched his hand loose just as it started between the cog wheels and only his little finger was caught, and being washed nearly off, and the member split. It was not even a week ago that he had not been gloved and he had not wrenched it away. It would no doubt have been mangled. Dr. Simons amputated the end of the injured finger.

May Rival Mammoth Cave.

It is reported that an immense subterranean channel which promises to surpass in size and beauty the famous Mammoth Cave, has been discovered near Glasgow Junction, Warren County. One can already see the entrance for a distance of seven miles. Further progress was stopped by a wide and swift river. It was not possible to tell the magnitude of it is stream.

Women as Well as Men

Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. The child urinates too often, if the urine acids the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet, "How to know if you are afflicted with kidney trouble," by the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. K. E. Williams & Co., Elmhurst, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. K. E. Williams' Swamp-Root, and the address, Elmhurst, N. Y., on every bottle.

BURGLARS MAKE A GOOD HAUL HERE.

Store of F. Fraize Robbed of Clothing Worth Between $50 and $100.

Gaining entrance by shattering the lower pane of a rear window, burglars robbed F. Fraize's store of a number of cloaks and several pairs of trousers on Halloween night. The clothing taken was estimated last week by the firm to be worth between $50 and $100. The robbery is believed to have been perpetrated sometime after midnight Wednesday morning, as the streets were too frequented until a late hour Tuesday night to insure the safety of the undertaking. An effort was made to get the bloodhounds at Hawesville on train No. 12, but they had been sent to Lyon to be cared for. There was some thought of getting them from Louisville, but the idea was abandoned.

The band of burglars did not enter from the work done whether there was more than one—made an attempt to enter the grocery department through the basement. Entrance into the basement was effected through a window. A trap door leads from the basement to the grocery department but there is no connection between the basement and the dry goods department. The trap door was held open by a bar and a barrel of sugar and could be raised. Ball in this direction, the burglar returned to the outside and broke in a window on the first floor by throwing a brick through it. He climbed up to the window in a plank, with slats nailed across it.

Three cloaks and a pair of trousers were found on the ground near the building Wednesday morning, indicating it would seem, that there was only one burglar and he had more than he could get away with, or that there were more than one and they were frightened away suddenly. Fred Fraize, junior member of the firm, was in the store early Wednesday morning before leaving on a business trip to Louisville on train No. 12, which is due here at 5:07 o'clock, and it is possible that the theft was being committed then and the guilty parties were frightened away when he entered the store.

The opinion has been expressed by several that the robbery was the work of some talent as the results showed familiarity with the surroundings. If it was outside talent, the parties concerned had ample opportunity to escape in a skiff, the river being only a short distance back of the store. However, if it was local talent, it is very probable that no effort will be made to sell the clothing in this section, as detection in that case would be almost certain.

News at Hogwallow.

(The Assistant Coroner is fearful that he will have to cut off one of Isaac Hollinger's wife's ears, and also hold an inquest over a tin peddler that comes through here Wednesday. He sold Mrs. Isaac Hollinger a pair of carbide for fifteen cents and guaranteed it a skiff, the river being only a short distance back of the store. However, if it was local talent, it is very probable that no effort will be made to sell the clothing in this section, as detection in that case would be almost certain.

A pond over on the ridge near Cedar Creek graveyard has dried up, and Tobie Mowley has been appointed a committee to investigate and see where the water went. To be started in on the search this morning, but so far has no clue to its whereabouts.

Sidney Hooks is considering the subject of entering into the goose business for a livelihood. Sidney bought a goose five weeks ago, and he says that he has layed on an average of a setting of eggs each day, excepting Sunday. She has not only refused to produce eggs on the Sunday, but she will even go near the pond on this day, being content to lounge around the hawp pen and out under the persimmon tree.

While posting up his books Thursday the Postmaster found a hen's nest with nine eggs in it, in one of the mail boxes.

Richard Hestep has traded a dawg for a month organ and figures on becoming a full-fledged member of Raz Barlow's Excelsior Fiddling Band. They serenaded Tobie Mowley Tuesday night. Several shots were fired, but no one was wounded.

A call at a very pretty straw hat belonging to Miss Hollister Hooks a few days ago. A large bunch of artificial flowers are on the hat and there are also inlaid, the remains of the calf were found out by the hawp a short time later. Miss Hollister has authorized the Assistant Coroner to hold an inquest over the body for the purpose of ascertaining if the hat is damaged beyond further use.

William G. Sterett.

Col. William Green Sterett, the celebrated Washington correspondent of the Dallas News and the Galveston News, is a native of Hawesville, and the only man Hawesville county has produced who has acquired national importance. The above picture is an excellent likeness of Col. Sterett. Though he has been pictured and photographed along with other well known men of the country, this is the first picture of Col. Sterett ever printed in this part of the country. There is a better known man in Texas than Col. Sterett, and at Washington he ranks high among the great newspaper correspondents. As the Hawesville Clarion (through whose courtesy this picture is produced here) expresses it, "once upon a time he was an ugly, freckled faced urchin who caught mud-cats in 'Sweet Lujan' creek and robbed birds' nests along its shaded banks."

Ruz Barlow rained a new list Friday night by forgetting to take it all when he went to bed. It is always impolite to go to bed with your hat in.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mr. Egin, Ontario, says: "I have had the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by Short & Haynes, Cloverport.

Buys Fine Duroc Jersey Hog.

E. P. Harlaway, of Bow-lyville, visited Chas. C. Wheeler, proprietor of the Crescent Stock Farm at Lincoln, Ky., last Wednesday, and bought of Mr. Wheeler the grand Duroc Jersey hog, Crescent Semolina 2nd, No. 12361. Mr. Harlaway expects to herd his head of Duroc with this one young hog living. Mr. Harlaway is an up-to-date farmer and a good judge of Duroc Jersey hogs, and he has, no doubt, done well to secure this hog for a herd hog.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodger Barnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 61 years old." For sale by A. R. Fisher.

Campbell-Bowlin

Tarboro, Ky., Nov. 7. (Special.)—Forrest Campbell and Miss Bertha Bowlin, of Tar Creek, were married at the home of the bride's parents last Tuesday evening, Rev. C. L. Goff performing the ceremony.

WINCHESTER

REPEATING SHOTGUNS

No matter how big the bird, no matter how heavy its plumage or swift its flight, you can bring it to bag with a long, strong, straight shooting Winchester Repeating Shotgun. Results are what count. They always give the best results in field, fowl or trap shooting, and are sold within reach of everybody's pocketbook.

FREE: Send name and address on a postal card for our large illustrated catalogue.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Ayer's Pills

The dose is one, just one pill at bedtime. Sugar-coated, mild, certain. They cure constipation.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE

THE "Open Door" to Success

SOUTHWEST

ARKANSAS The Anti-Renters' State. One of the most resourceful in the Union. Only one-fifth of the total acreage now under cultivation. Thousands of free homesteads. Still more thousands of improved farms for sale at ridiculously low prices. The Widest "Open Door" of Them All.

INDIAN TERRITORY Soon to be entirely the white man's country. The place and to hold. It is the richest in all of the Southwest.

OKLAHOMA The "What Next" Territory. Nearly a half-million acres now to be opened this year. Such a large hold. Write for illustrated literature and information to come to the Southwest in effect the first and best of all.

Rock Island System

CHICAGO, ILL.

FRISCO

Figures On Farms

If you could sell your farm today for $5000 and have it back tomorrow for $5000 an acre, you would do it.

If you can buy the $5000 for $1000 some where else, the proposition is good. You can buy it in the Southwest.

Why shouldn't you do it?

If you wish to know more, write for copies of our "Figures On Farms" booklet. This is free.

A. HILTON, General Passenger Agent, 351 Frisco Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

THE Fifth Avenue HOTEL

Louisville, Ky.

PIKE CAMPBELL, Mgr.

First State Bank,

IRVINGTON, KY.

W. J. HIGGOTT, President. JOHN R. WIMP, Vice-President.

H. H. KEMPER, Cashier.

Accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals solicited.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

The Breckinridge Bank,

Cloverport, Ky.

Capital Stock $45,100 Incorporated.

Surplus $7,000. Organized 1872.

W. H. BOWMER, President. A. B. SKILLMAN, Cashier.

DR. F. L. LIGHTFOOT, V-Pres. CHAS. B. SKILLMAN, Asst. Cashier.

Accounts of Firms, Individuals and Corporations solicited.

Any business entrusted to us will receive prompt and careful attention.

Storage place for packages in our fire-proof vault furnished for our customers free.

NEW SAFE, NEW VAULT AND ALL MODERN IMPROVEMENTS.

Interest paid on time deposits.

Bank of Hardinsburg,

OFFICERS

H. P. BEARD, President. M. H. BEARD, Cashier.

DIRECTORS

Morris Eskridge, G. W. Beard, Lafa Green, C. Vic Robertson, B. F. Beard, Dr. A. M. Kincheol, D. S. Richardson.

Insured against loss by fire or burglary.

Interest paid on time deposits.

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

JNO. D. and V. G. BABBAGE,
Editors and Proprietors.

Issued Every Wednesday.

Subscription Price $1.00 a year or $1.25 if paid at the end of year.

CARDS OF THANKS over five lines charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

OBITUARIES charged for at the rate of 5 cents per line. Money in advance.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct please notify us.

When ordering a change in the address subscribers should give their old as well as the new address.

TWELVE PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1905.

THOUGHTS.

"The Kaiser is assuredly one of the most impressive figures of the time. His ardor, his enthusiasm, his almost fanatic fervor of religious belief, leave no kind of doubt that as a man he is a Christian. But his passion for empire, his reliance on the power of the sword as a means of upholding the welfare of his country, leave no kind of doubt that as a monarch he is a pagan."—Hall Gurnee.

Do you get your man?

And it is all over. The shooting has not commenced at this writing.

The worst feeling man in this whole campaign will be the man who sold his vote. May God have mercy on him!

No matter who wins it will cost the winner about all the office's worth for the first two years. That is if all reports be true as to the money about yesterday.

We shall have to believe, as was reported here yesterday, that there was any tampering with the ballots at any precinct in this county. It is not only a reflection on the men who engage in it but a reflection on the whole county.

This paper received a very high compliment from a well-known young business man. Mr. Willis Green, in regard to its course in the campaign just closed. These expressions of approval from men of Mr. Green's standing are highly appreciated.

The post card habit has struck this town. It's a good habit. Good for your town and for your friends. You take a fellow way out west and he's glad to see even a post card from his old home town. Kentuckians out West are rather homesick anyway, and they need to be looked after. They never get over that "homesick feeling," so they tell us.

Our old friend, Judge H. Clay Rawlings, whom we met out in Kansas City, says that he would be glad to see the Democrats and Republicans in their next national conventions both nominate Mr. Roosevelt and that he would gladly support him. The judge was a red hot Democrat in Kentucky and is yet, but he says Roosevelt is the best president we ever had and that he would like to see him serve another four years.

In the past ten years the wealth of the United States, according to the Philadelphia Commercial List, has increased from $77,000,000,000 to $107,000,000,000, a gain of 37 per cent.; the money in circulation from $1,601,000,000 to $2,219,000,000, a gain of 38 per cent.; the bank deposits from $31,000,000,000 to $102,000,000,000, a gain of 100 per cent.; and the total bank deposits from $1,921,000,000 to $10,000,000,000, an increase of over 100 per cent.

The most conspicuous figure in this country to-day is William Travers Jerome, of New York city, the man without a party. He stands for the people versus the bosses and is proclaiming to the public in words that burn that the people are getting tired of the boss rule and of graft in public office and in public trust. If Mr. Jerome is elected, and everything points that way, it will be a most signal victory. The Jerome sentiment, like the Roosevelt sentiment, is taking the country.

The safest man in any community is the man who has a bank account. It establishes and lends confidence in him. It promotes credit, establishes responsibility and results in security. With the number of banks in this county it is mighty easy for every citizen to have a bank account. It doesn't matter if you have only a few dollars, open a bank account with your nearest bank. Use your check instead of money. Your money is much safer in your bank than in your pocket.

There was one familiar figure we saw out west and that was the Standard oil wagons. There is not a nook, or corner road or by-path in all this great country into which this great concern does not send its messengers. The great secret of its success is that it takes care of its trade. Wherever there is a gallon of oil wanted the Standard stands ready to furnish it. And the most minute detail of their business commands the same attention as the biggest. They go after the business and get it.

Everything in Kansas City is the "biggest on earth" and the people of that town don't hesitate to tell you so. The Vest boys have got this point of "bigness" down to a finish and they can give you as fine pointers on Kansas City as if they had been living there all their lives. These young men, we are proud to say, stand at the top among the business men of that great city and are making their mark along business and social lines. They still have a longing and a love for their old home and people and every spot of it, they say, is still dear to them and "Cov-hell" in particular.

If it be true, as reported, that a women's missionary society of a Kentucky town has denounced as "tainted" all eggs laid on Sundays, we can do no more than offer to Kentucky the star which was worn by Kansas until William Allen White made her self-conscious. Any stroke of ethical genius it has been decided that all "Sabbath-laid eggs" shall hereafter go to charity. Surely this policy will convert the hens. And if a lingering doubt remains whether the Sunday eggs are "tainted" or not, we must remember that the people of Kentucky are better acquainted with the eggs of their own hens than we are.

WHO ARE THE WORKERS?

The following from the Wall Street Journal, one of the most conservative and one of the best edited papers that comes to our desk, points out some striking facts in relation to the much discussed subject of labor and capital. To our mind it is the true solution of the problem. It says:

"A social orator stood in front of the sub-treasury a day or two ago and told his little cluster of hearers that all wealth was the product of labor, but that the laborer got only a small percentage of the product of his labor; the greater proportion went to capital."

"But who are the laborers who produce this wealth, who take it out of the earth, who cultivate it from the soil, who prepare it for the market, who transport it and sell it to the customer? Is the laborer only the man who works with the hoe, the shovel, the axe and the manifold tools of modern industry? This is a rather important question to be considered before making such a declaration as that the laborer does not get his due proportion of the product of his labor. There are millions of people who never handled a hoe or run a machine. But are they any less laborers who are producing wealth and adding to the sum of the achievements of civilization? Is the banker who finances the great operations of commerce and transportation any less a laborer than the man who works with the hoe? Capitalists who are using their capital and directing its use, in proper channels for the development of business enterprises, are not parasites. Artists, actors, writers and even newspaper men are not parasites living off the labor of others. They, too, have their part in the great mechanism of the production and distribution of wealth."

"There is an internal conflict between one class of labor and another class as to the division of the products of labor. One class is continually complaining because another gets a larger share than it does. There can be no doubt that the division is unequal. But so is the endowment given by nature to different men unequal. No socialist philosopher can explain away the inequality that exists in the mental power of different individuals, and no socialist program can remedy this inequality. It exists inherently in the human race. Thus one worker of superior mental powers and industry will get a larger reward for his labor than another. The only equality that is possible in this world is equality before the law so that every man, rich or poor, strong or weak, richly endowed, or deficient in brains, shall have an equal standing before the law, and an equal opportunity, under the law, to make the most of the powers which nature has given him. This is the problem which our republican government is endeavoring to solve; namely, the problem of equality before the law. It must be admitted that we have not altogether solved it yet, but we are steadily approaching to a solution. The more of such equality there is, the less room there will be for socialism."

The Frost is on the Pumpkin

The patter of autumn leaves, the crisp air all are forecasts of colder weather. How about winter supplies? Here's prices that should interest the head of the family.

Potatoes.

Irish Potatoes, 60c per bushel.
Sweet Potatoes, 60c per bushel.

Flour.

Best Patent 50 lbs. for $1.25.
Second Best 50 lbs. for $1.15.

Meal.

Bolled Meal 70c per bushel.
Bolled Meal 15c per peck.

Sugar.

Eastern Gran. 18 lbs for $1.
C Sugar 22 lbs for $1.

Coffee.

Package, any kind, 15c per package.
Bulk Coffee 15c per pound.

Beans.

Navy Beans 41c per pound.
Red Kidney Beans 40c per pound.

Can'd G'ds

Any kind 3 pound cans, 3 for 25c.

Cabbage.

25c per pound.

It will pay to provide for future needs today.

POPHAM BROS.,

CLOVERPORT, KY.

LODIBURG.

Mrs. A. M. Harlow is on the sick list.

Born, to the wife of Chas. Payne, a fine girl, November 3.

Little Zeina Avitt is improving after several days' illness.

Mrs. Otis Stiff and daughter, Mabel, visited Mrs. A. R. Bruce Saturday.

Critton Ater, of Raymond, visited his cousin, Mervin Basham, last Saturday.

Mrs. C. C. Grant and Mrs. L. C. Argabright visited Mrs. Wm. Shaw Saturday.

Rev. L. C. Argabright and daughter, Mary, visited H. T. Gibbons' family Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Harrell, who have been sick for several days, are recovering.

Miss Myri Basham and Mrs. Ida Knottinsam went to Shephersport one day last week shopping.

Arthur Basham and Miss Mary F. Argabright visited her aunt, Mrs. W. B. Albright last Sunday.

Mrs. D. D. Argabright and little son, Estelle, returned home yesterday after a lengthy visit to her father at Ammons.

Dr. Walker, McDaniel Nov. 14-16.

Dr. Walker will be at McDaniels Nov. 14, 15, 16, to do dental work.

Post Cards

with East and West views of

Cloverport

one cent each.

Everybody is buying them.

NEWS OFFICE.

To Start Box Ball Alley Here.

C. R. Bunnell, of Elizabethtown, will open a box ball alley in the Fair building this week. Ho ball is a new and intensely interesting game. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to come and play the game, a small price being charged. Mr. Bunnell has testimonials from Young Men's Christian Associations in different cities, who have box ball alleys in their buildings.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS!

Save 6 per cent. by paying before December 1. Will be at Rockvale, Thursday, Nov. 16.

Glendean, Tuesday, Nov. 21, 1 to 4 p. m.

McDaniels, Wednesday, Nov. 22.

It may be your last chance before the penalty goes on.

Respectfully,

H. M. BEARD, D. S.

Distinctively Different. In Every Way the Best.

The Weekly Globe-Democrat, of St. Louis, covers a field peculiarly and exclusively its own.

It is issued twice every week. A big SEMI-WEEKLY paper. Eight to ten large pages every Tuesday and Friday. One dollar a year.

Nothing particularly different, you say, about that—there are other "Twice-a-Week" papers.

Yes, but the similarity ends there. No other paper is like the Globe-Democrat in any other respect. No other paper equals the Globe-Democrat in any respect.

An entirely unique feature of the Globe-Democrat, a feature which is highly prized by its readers, is its systematic method of presenting and presenting the CONTINUITY OF NEWS.

The two papers each week, Tuesday and Friday, are carefully prepared with the view of giving the complete news of all the world for that week.

They are so combined in the make-up as to form continued and connected stories of the various important events, showing the developments from day to day and the final results.

Other weekly and twice-a-week papers, as a rule, print only a few telegrams of the day of issue.

The "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat gives the telegrams of every day of the week more comprehensively than the average daily, and of more value to the average reader.

Moreover, the "Twice-a-Week" Globe-Democrat is not simply an echo of the daily edition.

It is a separate and distinct publication, especially prepared to supply the requirements of people who want all the news of all the earth—and something more.

It presents the World's daily history in concise but complete form. It is of equal interest in all parts of the United States. It is invaluable aside to men and women, young and old.

It thoroughly provides for every member of the family. In high-grade literature it particularly excels. Its market reports are correct and complete in every detail.

Departments devoted to "The House," "The Farm and Garden," "The Family Circle," "The Sunday School," "Science and Industry," are each and all THE BEST of their kind and either one is more than worth the subscription price of the paper.

In politics it is strictly REPUBLICAN, but it is above all a newspaper, and it tells the truth without fear or favor. It has no equal or rival as a great national news and home journal.

Remember the price, only one dollar per year—104 papers—less than one cent a copy. Postage prepaid.

You will make no mistake if you send $1.00 TODAY for a year's subscription, or you can get your paper ONE YEAR WITHOUT COST by inducing two of your neighbors to subscribe and sending their names with $1.00.

FREE SAMPLE COPIES, containing order blanks and full particulars, will be cheerfully furnished upon receipt of postal card request. Address Globe Printing Company, Publishers.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat, ST. LOUIS, MO.

Greatest Meeting of Kind.

Commenting on the recent international tobacco growers' convention at Owensboro, Up-to-Date Farming, official organ of the American Society of Equity, says:

"With one hundred and thirty-two regular delegates in attendance and from three hundred to one thousand visitors in daily attendance the Owensboro tobacco growers' convention was considered a success from start to finish. It was the culmination of a year of hard work and the result is that the greatest price-making meeting in the world's history is now a matter of record."

"Two topics of extreme importance were attached to this meeting. The first was the establishment of minimum prices for each class and grade of tobacco, based upon the cost of production and regulated only by the natural law of supply and demand. It has been proven that the supply is not such as to force prices to the very low level where they have rested for the past three years, and the attempt to keep them there is purely the work of the dealers and speculators. The other topic of great importance was the topic of completing the organization and making plans to enable all tobacco growers to hold for these prices and to make sales to the best advantage."

Subscribe for the News.

No Waiting Here

Just tell us how much lumber you need. We have all kinds of Framing material, and choice Poplar and Walnut is ready for you.

That's the thing, unable to get so quick before.

Let us have your order to-day. Your House, Barn or Stable may need repairs.

REMEMBER US.

Seaton & Weatherholt,
Cloverport, Ky.

Heber Matthews, editor of the Hartford Herald, has been adjudged insane and sent to the asylum. He had been ailing for several months and in recent weeks his malady affected his mind so that there remained no alternative but to send him to the asylum.

Tutt's Pills

FOR TORPID LIVER.
A torpid liver deranges the whole system and produces
SICK HEADACHE,
Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Rheumatism, Sallow Skin and Piles.
There is no better remedy for these common diseases than DR. TUTT'S LIVER PILLS, as a trial will prove.
Take No Substitute.

"Jumbo pickles, froth—English Kitchen."
Rev. B. M. Currie was in Owensboro Thursday.
Miss Alice Board of Holt, was visiting here Thursday.
Richard Whitehouse was in Louisville part of last week.
Miss Nell Whitehouse was in Louisville last week.
Mrs. J. T. Morrison has returned from a visit to Louisville.
Mrs. Fannie Lishon is visiting Mrs. Frank Eades at Owensboro.
Mrs. C. M. Stephens has been visiting relatives in Owensboro.
J. A. Barry returned Friday from Ekron, to be at home several weeks.
I. J. Muckenous went to Owensboro Saturday to spend several days.
Mr. and Mrs. Nat Tucker spent Friday and Saturday in Louisville.
Clothes cleaned and neatly pressed. Prompt and polite service.—W. Fortlines.
Mrs. O. B. Foster returned Saturday to Owensboro, after a visit of several weeks here.
Mrs. R. B. Pierce returned Friday from a visit to her son, Wallace Pierce, in Louisville.
Ernest Gregory, of New Albany, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gregory.
Geo. Gutzendamer has been here for several days from Lakeland, where he has a position.
Mrs. A. B. Skillman was in Owensboro last week the guest of her son, Jas. R. Skillman.
W. L. McCracken came home from Edlyville last week to remain until after the election.

(On account of a wreck, 150 of our finest cloaks will arrive in time for the sale last Saturday and will be on hand this week in time for a grand display on next Friday and Saturday. Handsome goods and lowest possible prices will be our aim in disposing of this big lot of goods. A lady's suit worth $1.50 will be given free to every one who buys a cloak on these two days—Friday and Saturday. Best values ever offered in Mendon county.—The Arcade, D. S. Richardson, prop., Brandenburg, Ky.)

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50, and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion. Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
SCOTT'S BOWNE, CHEMISTS,
409 Pearl St., N. Y.
50c. and $1; all druggists.

Oysters, all styles—English Kitchen.
Jno. P. Haswell, Jr., of Harlanburg, was here Monday.
Fred Fritze was in Louisville last Wednesday.
George Wendelken was down from Louisville yesterday.
Hot lunches at all hours—English Kitchen.
O. H. Severs came home Friday to remain until after the election.
The best you can get here in the oyster way—English Kitchen.
Frank Mercer and Ed. Dillon, of Harlanburg, were here Monday.
Chas. B. Parsons, of Detroit, was the guest of Miss Eliza May Sunday.
Clothes called for and delivered—dressed and pressed.—W. Fortlines.
Miss Nancy Smith has returned to Glenhorne, after a visit to Miss Ethel Oelke.
Pike Conn and daughter, Miss Belle Conn, were down from Stephensport Monday.
D. W. May, of Owensboro, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. May, yesterday.
Proctor Keith returned last week from Elizabethtown, where he had been for several weeks.
Chas. Wendelken and two little daughters came down from Louisville Monday to visit relatives.
The ladies of the Methodist church will give an oyster and ice cream supper Thursday at 7 o'clock.
Roy Hoyer, of Detroit, left Saturday, after a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Hoyer.
J. M. Conroy has returned from a visit to his mother, Mrs. Maggie Conroy, at Elizabethtown.
Mrs. J. F. Morton was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Triplett, at Gardfield, last week.
Mrs. Darnell Dowden was at Cannelton last week the guest of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wittauer.
Miss Jennie Warfield returned Thursday to Louisville, after a visit to her sister, Mrs. Frank Plaine.
Walter Hitt, of Rowles, formerly of this city, was here last week the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. C. Nolte.
Mrs. G. Foote and two little daughters, of Irvington, were the guests of Mrs. V. G. Barbage part of last week.
Dr. R. P. Keene, of Owensboro, will be at Dr. Lightfoot's office from November 20 to 27, for the practice of dentistry.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. May and Miss Eva and Miss Eliza May were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brinkman at Owensboro Sunday.
On account of a wreck, 150 of our finest cloaks did not arrive in time for the sale last Saturday but will be on hand this week in time for a grand display on next Friday and Saturday. Handsome goods and lowest possible prices will be our aim in disposing of this big lot of goods. A lady's suit worth $1.50 will be given free to every one who buys a cloak on these two days—Friday and Saturday. Best values ever offered in Mendon county.—The Arcade, D. S. Richardson, prop., Brandenburg, Ky.)

LOCAL BRIEFS.

J. D. Seaton, of the lumber firm of Seaton & Weatherholt, was at Harlanburg last week looking after the timber interests of the firm in that section. They are getting out a large amount of timber at Harlanburg and more than from any other part of the county at present.
Edwin Foote, of Bevelyville, has a position as tollman with the government surveying crew that has been working this point.
The Methodist Sunday school has appointed a number of young ladies to make a home-to-home canvass of the city, in the interest of the Sunday school work, by request of the State Sunday school association. The Baptist Sunday school will make its appointments next Sunday. The young ladies of both Sunday schools will perform the work together, collecting information regarding the number of children of each family in Sunday school and those out, the denomination to which the families belong, etc.
Father Bray held services at St. Rose's Catholic church last Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, the day being known as All Saints day. The services were similar to those held on Sunday. The day is observed as a holiday by Catholics.
Joseph Sawyer was taken to Louisville yesterday morning to have an operation performed for inflammation of the knee. The operation will be performed at Norton infirmary. It will be the second operation Mr. Sawyer has undergone in the past ten weeks, the first being for appendicitis.

Nasal CATARRH
Ely's Cream Balm
To all it cures.
Ely's Cream Balm
cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.
Cream Balm is placed inside the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Drug stores or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.
ELY BROTHERS, 66 Warren Street, New York

Mrs. Chas. B. Skillman entertained the Ladies' Reading Club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. L. Moorman will be the hostess tomorrow afternoon. The club is now reading "Nola," one of the new popular novels.
Chas. Berry, who had a position with the Henderson Route as machinist, has gone to Owensboro, to accept a similar position, with increased pay, with the Chicago Great Western railroad.
Edward Gregory raised, in his garden, this year, 235 stalks of celery, one of which, he says, will weigh as much as twelve of the stalks of the late season. He expects to put his celery on the market about Christmas and to realize a neat sum by the sale. He has thus demonstrated that celery can be successfully and profitably raised in this section when planted in the proper soil. T. P. Napp, one of his neighbors and a gardener of many years' experience, says it is the best celery he has ever seen.
Horse-drawn carriage service will be held the first Sunday in every month at the Methodist church. The monthly service was inaugurated by Rev. Currie Sunday morning.
The Cloverport chapter Royal Arch Masons have sent out invitations to chapters to a meeting which will be held at the Masonic Temple on November 10. At the meeting all the degrees of the chapter will be conferred.
R. L. Newman and John C. Mattingly have bought the T. P. Hagood property, thirteen acres, including the shipping yard, lying on Murray avenue. Consideration $650.
Rev. B. M. Currie is organizing an old-fashioned class meeting which will be held for the first time at the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon, and probably every Sunday thereafter. The younger members of the church, especially, are invited to attend this meeting, which will be the first of the kind since the pastorate of Rev. J. B. Seay.
Mrs. Eliza Allen, of near town, is improving, after an attack of pneumonia.
Miss Christine Cottrell was the guest of honor at a family pulling Friday evening given by Miss Elizabeth Skillman.
Mrs. G. W. Shuler entertained last Tuesday evening in honor of her niece, Miss Christine Cottrell. The entertainment and decorations were in accordance with Halloween. One of the features of the evening was the distribution of favor by little Miss Josephine Cottrell. She was attractively dressed as a little fairy and played her part in an airy, lively manner which charmed all the guests.
The city council, at its regular monthly meeting Monday night, appointed a city equalization board, to meet Monday, December 4. The board in composition of Messrs. Ed. Whitened, J. C. Mattingly and J. J. Dyer. No other new business of consequence was before the council.
J. M. Gregory, who has had a severe attack of rheumatism, is much improved, after treatment by Dr. Fred DeHaven, the Louisville osteopath.
Chas. Cottrell and family will leave soon for their home at Pensacola, Fla. They have been here the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Short during part of the recent yellow fever period in the South and Mr. Cottrell has conducted a photograph gallery in the Fair building, in which business he is engaged at Pensacola.
The Louisville Baptist Orphan's Home, through its agent, L. S. Sanders, has placed two children in the neighborhood of the Hite's Run Baptist church, near the city, one with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomson, and the other with Mrs. Emma Harlin. The children have been placed recently.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Beware of cheap imitations.
Signature: Chas. H. Fletcher

STEPHENS-PORT.
Pike Conn and daughter, Belle, were in Cloverport Monday.
Mrs. Frank Hickson is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Betsy Roff.
L. R. Adkinson, of Edlyville, is visiting friends here this week.
A. T. Blain, of St. Louis, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Eliza Blain.
June Abridge and Stanley Conner came home from Louisville to vote.
Miss Cora McCloy visited her parents Saturday and Sunday near Union Star.
Mrs. George Driscoll and children spent a few days in Louisville last week.
William Sargent, of Owensboro, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Georgia Sargent.
Ed Brown, of Harlanburg, was here last week to see his brother-in-law Mr. Critchfield.
Rev. J. T. Lewis, of Cloverport, filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday.
Dr. A. M. Harlaway will be at Stephensport November 13-14-15 for the practice of dentistry.
Fannie Rhodes and wife passed through town Wednesday enroute to their home at Brandenburg.
Don't forget that Geo. McCubbins is the best horse trader, dealer long or short, for women and children, also a nice line of capes and furs. All at wholesale prices.
Big bargains in shoes, underwear, overcoats, ladies' dress skirts and shirt waists, also a fine line of furniture, stoves, hardware and harness—Geo. McCubbins.
J. B. Cunningham, of Chensault, passed through here Sunday, enroute to Irvington, to see his little granddaughter, Nannie Lee Gardner, who has been ill for several days.
Wants.
Advertisements inserted under this head at one cent a word per line.
FOR SALE.
FOR SALE—Organ, cheap. Apply at News office.
FOR SALE—CHAIRS.
FOR SALE—Six folding room chairs, in good order. Apply to News office.
FOR SALE.
FOR SALE—Three black hoes, short shaft, v-shaped, about 10 years old. Found in my barn Oct. 23. Owner can get more by coming after and paying for feed. P. D. Harter, Cloverport, Ky.
FOR SALE—ENGINES.
FOR SALE—Two gasoline engines suitable for cutting feed, sawing and pumping water. Apply to J. D. Plank, Cloverport, Ky.
FOR SALE—MARE.
FOR SALE—Mare, dark bay, about 15 hands high, white stock, shod, found in my barn about 10 years old. Found in my barn Oct. 23. Owner can get more by coming after and paying for feed. P. D. Harter, Cloverport, Ky.
FOR SALE—MACHINE.
FOR SALE—Two cutting machines and one lot of good laundry machines. A new and second-hand clothes washers. Apply to J. D. Plank, Cloverport, Ky.
FOR SALE—STATION CERTIFICATE.
FOR SALE—Tuition Certificate in Bryant & Stratton's Business College, Louisville. For particulars apply to The Breckenridge News, Cloverport, Ky.
HENDERSON ROUTE NOTES.
One way second class colonist tickets to South and Southeast, first and third Tuesdays each month at reduced rates.
Homeseekers Excursions to all points to which homeseekers' rates apply.
One way colonist, rates to California and the Northwest March 1 to May 15, and Sept. 15 to Oct. 31, 1905.
Thanksgiving Rates, Nov. 30.
For Thanksgiving, rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip between local points, minimum 25 cents, will be made on Nov. 29 and 30, good to return Dec. 4.
L. H. & S. L. TIME TABLE.
EAST BOUND.
No. 46, Daily Post Train leaves Cloverport 5:30 A. M. stops at West Point only arrives at Louisville 7:15 A. M.
No. 47, Daily Mail and Express, leaves Cloverport 5:30 A. M. stops at all way stations; arrives Louisville 12:30 P. M.
Train No. 44, Daily, fast mail, leaves Cloverport 7:30 A. M. arrives Louisville 12:30 P. M.
Train No. 45, Mail and Express, leaves Cloverport 7:30 A. M. arrives Louisville 12:30 P. M.
Train No. 46, Daily, Cloverport accommodation, arrives Cloverport 3:30 P. M.
WEST BOUND.
No. 47, Daily, Cloverport accommodation, leaves Cloverport 3:30 P. M. arrives Evansville 10:00 A. M.
Train No. 44, Daily, fast mail and Express, leaves Cloverport 10:30 A. M. stops only at Harlanburg, Lexington, Henderson and Evansville, arrives St. Louis 7:30 P. M.
Train No. 45, Mail and Express, leaves Cloverport 10:30 A. M. arrives Evansville 10:30 A. M. St. Louis 7:30 P. M.
No. 46, Daily St. Louis fast train, leaves Cloverport 10:30 A. M. arrives Evansville 10:30 A. M. St. Louis 7:30 P. M.
Chairs cars on trains 44 and 46, between Louisville and Evansville, through sleeping cars and reclining chair cars, trains 45 and 46, between Louisville and St. Louis.
Fordville Branch.
KENT BOUND.
Train No. 5, Daily except Sunday leaves Fordville 5:30 A. M. arrives Irvington 5:30 P. M.
Train No. 4, Daily except Sunday leaves Fordville 5:30 A. M. arrives Irvington 5:30 P. M.
Train No. 6, Sunday only.
Fordville 5:30 A. M., Irvington 9:00 A. M.
WEST BOUND.
Train No. 3, Daily except Sunday leaves Irvington 5:30 A. M. arrives Fordville 5:30 P. M.
Train No. 2, Daily leaves Irvington 5:30 P. M. arrives Fordville 9:30 A. M.

MEET ME AT NOLTE'S.

Cloaks, Cloaks!

FOR THE CHILDREN,
FOR MISSES,
FOR LADIES.

Smart and Stylish—the newest.
Furs, too, are the fashion.
Furs, Muffs and Cloaks make a nice combination.
Let us show you the line.
Benefit by early purchase and enjoy the warm wraps. COME NOW.

J. C. Nolte & Bro.,
Cloverport, Ky.

Here's News

Your Groceryman has just received a large shipment of GOLD DUST. We refer to Cadick's Gold Dust Flour. It's going fast at much less than its real value. Indeed, to those who appreciate good food, this flour is almost priceless. It never disappoints, it never fails to satisfy. It is used by a countless number of people who would use no other. You would use it if you knew its value.

Cadick Milling Co.,
GRANDVIEW, IND.

Watch Your Watch.

Blacksmiths, Wagonmakers, Carpenters, Tinsmiths, Etc.,

Bring us your watches, your plows, your buggies and horse-shoes. We are silversmiths but guess we can do your blacksmithing at least.

IT IS AS REASONABLE FOR A SILVERSMITH TO SHOW YOUR HORSE AS FOR A BLACKSMITH TO FIX YOUR WATCH.

YES, BRING US YOUR MACHINES.

T. C. LEWIS & SON,
YOUR JEWELERS,
HARDINSBURG, KENTUCKY.

WE carefully safeguard the interests of our customers. Moreover, we frequently do not know to them, as opportunities often come to us, confidential ways.

LET US HAVE YOUR BUSINESS.

All business entrusted to us will receive prompt and careful attention. Highest rate of interest paid on time deposits.

INSURED AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE AND BURGLARY. INSURATIVE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. FIRST OFFICERS.

Bank of Cloverport,
Cloverport, Ky.

Public Sale

Johnson's Farm, one mile East of Gardfield.

FRIDAY, NOV. 10.

30 Head Berkshire Hogs, headed by model Lee IV, No. 69409. Sows trace back to "Columbia Duke," a hog that Vanderbilt paid $2,500 for. All hogs are eligible to register.

1 Boar, 1 yoke two-year-old Oxen and other cattle; 3 Head Fine Horses.

Terms Made Known on Day of Sale.

D. C. JOHNSON,
GARDFIELD, KY.

Subscribe for the News.

New Photograph Gallery.
C. G. BRABANT,
PHOTOGRAPHER.

From Owensboro's has opened up a nice gallery opposite the post office in Cloverport. All kinds of photographic work done in artistic style. PRICES MODERATE.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION

CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS
One Cough Syrup, Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

Massacre in Russia.
Odessa, Nov. 3.—A dispatch from Kishineff says: "A horrible massacre has occurred here. Hundreds have been killed. All the hospitals, pharmacies and hotels are full of wounded and mutilated persons."

USEFUL FACTS

About Coughs, Colds, and Bronchitis Troubles Given the People of Cloverport by Our Druggists, Short & Haynes.

"In conducting a large drug business we naturally meet a great many people at this season of the year who suffer from coughs, colds and bronchitis troubles.

As these troubles are easily controlled if the right means is taken we want to say to the people of Cloverport that we guarantee our cold liver oil preparation, Vinol, will cure coughing on colds, asthma, colds, influenza and lung troubles, quicker than any preparation we have ever sold, because it is the most perfect compound of cold liver oil ever compounded. It contains no oil or grease to clog the system and upsets the stomach, yet it does contain every one of the twenty odd medicinal elements actually taken from fresh cod fish livers in a highly sub-sterilized form and is therefore the best of liver preparations available. Vinol is not a patent medicine, everything in it is branded on the back label of the bottle and you know what you are taking, so you can rest assured we endorse and guarantee Vinol in strength every grain in the body to do its work as nature intended it to cure coughs, colds, influenza troubles, increase the appetite and put up the run down, tired and feeble, and create strength and renewed vitality for the aged.

It Vinol fails to do what we say we will refund every dollar paid for it. You know and know we will do as we agree. Short & Haynes, Druggists.

The President Issues His Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 2 The President issued his Thanksgiving proclamation. It follows:

By the President of the United States.

A Proclamation.

When, nearly three centuries ago, the settlers came to the country which has now become this great republic they confronted not only hardship and privation, but terrible risk to their lives. In those grim years the custom grew of setting apart one day in each year for a special service of thanksgiving to the Almighty for preserving the people through the changing seasons. The custom has now become national and has led to the annual observance. We live in easier and more plentiful times than our forefathers, the men who with rugged strength faced the rugged days, and of the dangers to men and life are quite as great now as it was previous time in our history. It is eminently fitting that once a year our people should set apart a day for praise and thanksgiving to the Giver of good, and at the same time that they express their thankfulness for the abundant mercies bestowed, should mutually acknowledge their shortcomings and pledge themselves solemnly and in good faith to strive to overcome them. During the past years we have been blessed with bountiful crops and our new prosperity has been great. No other people has ever stood so high a level of well-being as our own stands. We are not threatened by foes from without. The loss from within we should try to be delivered from our own passions, appetites and follies, and against these there is always need that we should war.

Therefore, I now set apart this day, the 30th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving for the past and of prayer for the future, and on that day I ask that throughout the land the people gather in their homes and places of worship, and in rendering thanks unto the Most High for the manifold blessings of the past year, consecrate themselves to a life of cleanliness, honor and wisdom, so that this nation may do its allotted work on the earth in a manner worthy of those who founded it and of those who preserved it.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this 2nd day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and five, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and thirtieth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

V. Card.

This is to certify that all Druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough and heals the lungs. Prevents pneumonia and will cure any cold or consumption. Contains no opiates and is safest for children. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and insist upon having it. Stops the cough and heals the lungs. For sale by A. R. Fisher.

Halloween Idea Carried Out in Detail Social Affairs Success.

The Halloween idea was carried out in detail at the Halloween social given last Tuesday evening at the B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist Young People's Union and the affair was a pronounced success socially and financially. The attendance was all that could be desired, the spacious hall being crowded, a large part of the time to the extent that standing room was almost at a premium where the booths and fascinating attractions were. All present seemed thoroughly to enjoy themselves, especially those who took part in and witnessed the apple bobbing. Young and old alike attempted this feat, with more or less success, to the great amusement of the spectators.

The decorations were profuse and attractive and suggestive of Halloween and the time of the year. Large jack-o'-lanterns were ranged in a long row on each side of the hall and numerous little jack-o'-lanterns, made of gongs and tiny candles, were strung over the booths. Festoons of variegated leaves, mistletoe, golden rods, constables, etc., in every convenient place and at attractively arranged completed the decorations.

The popular attraction was the fortune telling booth, in which two fortune tellers told your past, present and future (mostly future) for only five cents. The two young ladies who officiated in the booth seemed to know the mystic art so well that it has been sincerely doubted whether any reservations were necessary in what they foretold, though they were kept busy throughout the evening.

Hot chocolate, candy, mumpkin pie, popcorn, etc., was sold at the several booths and games and the program was served at the tables.

NOTES.

There was no admission fee. A local string band discoursed music.

It was, perhaps, as large an indoor social as Cloverport ever had.

The gross receipts were about $800 and the net receipts $36.

The members of the Epworth League did their part in the way of patronage and the same spirit of harmony and good will prevailed here as characterized the past economical meetings of the two young people's societies.

Interested out-of-town people at the social were the young men off the government surveying boat.

The small boy enjoyed the social and then all the while he had an opportunity to perform.

Seventy-eight young people—that's the membership of the B. Y. P. U.—can do a great deal toward a good cause, and the crowd spent money in a way that showed they had no objection to it being a good cause.

Sanctified Mother.

"Consumption runs in our family, and though I lost my mother," writes E. B. Reed, of Harmony, Mo. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a Cough or Cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Which has saved me from serious lung trouble." His mother's death was a sad loss for Mr. Reed, but he found that lung trouble must not be neglected, and how to cure it. Quickest relief and cure for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed at Short & Haynes drug store. Trial bottle free.

Affects Shippers of Whisky Into Local Option Places.

John W. Yerkes, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has made a ruling which is of vital importance to shippers of whisky to local option communities. In many instances dealers of this kind have been shipping whisky, consigning it to themselves, attaching a bill of lading or draft which had to be paid by the customer, often at a bank before they could get the goods. The commissioner rules where this is done the dealer will have to pay a special tax before the goods can be delivered to the customers, and this will have to be done in every place where the goods are delivered.

Under an act of the last Legislature dealers in whisky are forbidden to ship their goods into a local option community (C. O. D.). In order to evade this responsibility they have been consigning the goods to themselves, and drawing on the customer at the time where the delivery is made. When the commissioner was notified of this he at once made the following ruling:

Liquor dealers, who upon orders received from customers, instead of shipping the liquor ordered to those customers, with directions to collect on delivery, ship the liquor to themselves, and send the bill of lading, draft attached, to a bank for payment by the customer before they can be entitled to the possession of the liquor involve themselves in special tax liability at each place where sale and deliveries are made.

Why Spend Your Money? FOR SEWING MACHINES YOU HAVE NEVER SEEN

WHEN YOU CAN INSPECT AND TRY THE BEST MACHINE MADE IN YOUR OWN TOWN

BY THIS SIGN YOU MAY KNOW THE SINGER STORE WHERE YOU ARE ASSURED OF FAIR DEALING BY YOUR OWN TOWNS PEOPLE BACKED BY THE SINGER GUARANTEE

SOLD OR RENTED AT MAIN STREET, CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY.

No. 2 Folding Brownie

Price, $5.00

A wonderfully capable and accurate camera built on the Kodak plan. Good enough to satisfy experienced photographers, yet so simple that children can use it.

PICTURES 2 1/4 x 3 1/4 inches.

Loads in daylight with film Cartridges.

Fitted with meniscus lens, and snutter with iris diaphragm stops.

Full description in Kodak Catalog FREE at any photographic dealers or by mail.

EASTMAN KODAK CO., Rochester, N. Y.

Blind Headache

"About a year ago," writes Mrs. Mattie Allen, of 1123 Broadway, Augusta, Ga., "I suffered with blind, sick headaches and backaches, and could get no relief until I tried

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Relief

I immediately commenced to improve, and now I feel like a new woman, and wish to recommend it to all sick women, for I know it will cure them, as it did me." Cardui is pure, medicinal extract of vegetable herbs, which relieves female pains, regulates female functions, tones up the organs to a proper state of health. Try it for your trouble. Every druggist sells it in 1.00 bottles.

THE NEWS AND A 75c KNIFE FOR $1.25 SUBSCRIBE NOW! DON'T DELAY!

LOW SETTLERS' RATES

TO POINTS IN THE WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

Via Cotton Belt Route.

On first and third Tuesdays of each month round trip tickets will be sold to points in South-east Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas, at rate of one fare plus 82. Stopovers allowed on the going trip; 21 days in which to return.

Cotton Belt Route trains leave St. Louis morning and evening, making connection with all lines, and carry sleepers, chair cars and parlor cars.

Write in for literature describing the cheap lands along the Cotton Belt Route, for maps, time table and information about routes, etc.

L. O. SCHAEFER, T. P. A. Cotton Belt Route, Cincinnati, O.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

SHORTEST AND FASTEST LINES

From

LEXINGTON AND LOUISVILLE

To

ST. LOUIS AND THE WEST

Two Trains Daily as Follows:

Leave Lexington 6:10 a.m., Louisville 9:04 a.m. Arrive St. Louis 12:12 p.m. Carrying vestibuled coaches and Cafe/Observation Parlor Car. Meals a la carte. Through without change.

Leave Lexington 5:30 p.m., Louisville 10:15 p.m. Arrive St. Louis 7:30 a.m. Carrying free reclining chair cars and Pullman sleeper through without change.

Reserve Sleeping Car berths at 111 East Main street, Lexington, Ky., 234 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky., or Union Depots.

Who the Horse Ate So.

"I wonder what the matter with that horse," said a man to his wife while he was in the act of milking the animal. The horse was rearing and plunging and displaying signs of terror whenever his master came near him. A passerby came to his aid, and while quelling the animal explained to the owner, "I noticed," said he, "that you just came out of the zoo over there. A slight scent of wild animals clinging to your clothing, and although your horse has probably never seen anything wilder than a cow, his instinct tells him that where that scent is there is danger. It will wear off soon and you will have no more trouble." Philadelphia Record.

A Cough Syrup which drives a cold out of the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is offered in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Clears the throat, strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. The mother's friend and the children's favorite. Best for Croup, Whooping-Cough, etc. Sold by all Druggists.

Not Just What She Meant.

The former head of a large private school in Cleveland was a gentleman of dignified bearing, refined and correct always in manner and speech. By birth and early rearing he was a Quaker and doubtless of straight Puritan extraction. One day in his boyhood his mother called him in from the yard where he was playing with some other boys to say to him, in a tone suggestive of mingled sadness and severity:

"Noble, my son, I never thought to hear you use a swear word."

"Why, mother," said the boy, "I didn't use any swear word. I only said the devil." Nobody thinks that's swearing."

"I don't care," cried the mother quickly. "It's minkling light of sacred things."—Cleveland Leader.

Man's Unreasonableness is often as great as a woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by Short & Haynes, druggists, price 50c.

LOUISVILLE & EVANSVILLE

PACKET CO. (INCORPORATED.)

Fast Mail and Passenger Line between Louisville and Evansville.

Steamers:

Tarascon, Tell City,

Leave Louisville Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, 4 p. m.

Leave Evansville Monday 10 a. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 6 p. m.

Through freight rates and passenger tickets to Cincinnati. Freight shipments delivered quicker than by rail.

PASSENGER FARE REDUCED.

Cloverport to Louisville $1.75 Cloverport to Evansville 1.75 Cloverport to Owensboro .75

Spacious accommodations for st. General Office, 154-155-158 4th at. Louisville, Ky.

G. V. WILLIAMS, G. F. A. and GEO. H. WILLIS, Supt.

SUMMER EXCURSIONS VIA ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R.

to California and Colorado and to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, PORTLAND, OREGON.

at special reduced rates.

Very Cheap One Way Rates to California and the Northwest Sept. 15 to October 31.

Homesteaders round trip and one way colonist, on the first and third Tuesdays in each month to points in

Mississippi and Louisiana

Homesteaders round trip on the first and third Tuesdays to points in Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, etc.

Cheap Excursion Rates to Hot Springs, Ark. via Memphis.

Illinois Central Weekly Excursion to CALIFORNIA.

Excursion rates through to Los Angeles and San Francisco via New Orleans. Every Tuesday from Cincinnati and Louisville, via Omaha and the Seaside Route every Wednesday from Chicago.

Full particulars concerning all of the above can be had of Home Agents or by addressing F. W. HARLOW, D. P. A., Louisville

HOWE'S TORICOID GLASSES

"TORICOID GLASSES" are spectacles and eye-glasses ground in a peculiar manner, so as to give a much larger, clearer field of vision than any other glasses and a sense of freedom and comfort to the wearer that no other glasses afford, and which can be appreciated by those who have tried them. They are without question, the most scientific, fully constructed and perfect glasses ever made; and when made into BIFOCALS (near and farsighted) they combine the best of both and can be worn with as much comfort as single lenses. The constant bulging of the eyes of any other form of Bifocal Glasses.

"TORICOID GLASSES" are made only by T. J. Howe & Co., Louisville, Ky., and are under positive guarantee that if they do not give satisfaction in every way you perfect comfort and satisfaction in every way, write to us about "TORICOID GLASSES"—mentioning this paper.

T. J. Howe & Co., Opticians LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known food and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membrane lining the stomach. Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for our children."

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Bottles only, $1.00 Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size which is free. Prepared by E. C. DAWITT & CO., CHICAGO, Sold by all Druggists. Ask for the 1905 Kodol Almanac and 200 Year Calendar.

THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE

MAGAZINE SECTION.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1905.

PART TWO.

CONSUELO ENCOURAGES SEX.

DAUGHTER OF VANDERBILTS SEES INFOLD OF LABOR.

Comparison of Past Restrictions With Present Freedom Reveals Growth of Woman's Sphere.

An ex-President of the United States thinks it not beneath his dignity to talk to the women of the country through the pages of a popular woman's magazine, warning them of the dangers and undermining effects upon their character of active participation in public affairs. The feminine club life of to-day he especially condemns.

Following this comes the announcement of an interview with a representative of the new and charming womanhood of America in the person of Consuelo, Duchess of Marlborough, daughter of the Vanderbilts, married into one of the oldest and proudest families of England, surrounded by every luxury and crowned with beauty, youth and grace, yet is she democratic enough to be interested in her sisters of the working world.

Women's Work Commended.

Concerning woman's work the Duchess says:

"It is gratifying to see the improvement to speak at a temperance convention recalls to mind the old story of Lucy Stone, of Massachusetts, a pioneer suffragist, who, after her graduation at Oberlin, Ohio (the only college admitting women at that time), desired to speak in one of the Massachusetts churches. The announcement of the address was made by the minister of the church in the following words:

"A hen wishes to crow like a rooster in this church on Thursday evening. Anybody liking that kind of music is invited to attend."

It seems almost incredible in these days that time was, and only half a century ago, too, when woman's activity was limited to so small a circle. As a means of livelihood she had but three vocations from which to choose: housework, sewing and teaching; and all poorly paid, at that. Marriage was supposed to be the chief end and aim of her existence. This state she sought, sometimes as a refuge from greater ills. A girl single at 22 or 23 was considered an "old maid." No woman, except among the Society of Friends, could be ordained to preach the gospel. The woman physician or lawyer was an unknown quantity.

The Women Held Aside Their Skirts.

When Antoinette Brown Blackwell, the first woman to graduate in medicine in this country, appeared on the streets the women met held aside their skirts for fear of contamination from so unwomanly a creature. The airs of prejudice were high and strong.

COAL STRIKE PROBABLE.

AGREEMENT MADE THREE YEARS AGO BETWEEN MINERS AND OPERATORS EXPIRES NEXT APRIL.

Miners Will Then Demand Eight Hour Day and Recognition of Union. Owners Will Vigorously Oppose.

Charles E. Kern.

With the coming of winter many a household has calculated upon the probability of a strike in the anthracite coal regions and wondered whether he should take the precaution to lay in a full supply of fuel. The day when the president held up great stores for the frozen period of the year, filled his larder with good things to eat and his bins with fuel, against the famine of winter, has departed so far as the crises of this country are concerned. Now rich and poor alike, the president and the impoverished, look to the merchant to keep their larders filled. Their only providence is in laying up the money with which to purchase supplies when needed.

It is this change in the method of providing for the home, that has made the strike in recent years so terrible to the humble consumer, who may live a thousand miles from the scene of the industrial discontent and know nothing of its causes, except that which he reads in his daily paper, and yet be the principal sufferer from the shortage of supplies that follows. The effectiveness of the strike is its power to create such a shortage in supplies and to bring the country upon the verge of a famine as had as a food famine. Transportation, by quickly distributing products over the world, has routed the famine of old that sprung from the failure of crops. Now the cessation of labor produces the same shortage of supply that was formerly produced by the uncontrollable elements.

The chief protection against the recurrence of strikes has been found in agreements made between employers and employees, the present agreement in the anthracite coal fields being effective until April 1st next. Until after that date, according to the statements of leading labor organization officials, there will be no strike, as they propose to stand for the inviolability of contracts made by any of their affiliated associations.

The good offices of the President of the United States were used with great advantage in bringing about an agreement between the mine operators and the miners three years ago, so as to make possible the production of coal. The fact is that the President used only that influence which may be regarded as the influence of his great office skillfully employed.

In bringing the two sides to the controversy together.

Wields a Great Power.

Few people understand what an immense power is wielded by the President of the United States when that office is filled by a man of good judgment. The President, by issuing an invitation to the men on both sides of the coal controversy under the circumstances that existed three years ago, practically forced them to agree to an arbitration of their differences, and, either party to that controversy, declined to enter the agreement, it would have so fully lost public sympathy as to have been eventually driven to surrender wholly to its opponent. In that case the power behind the President was the power of public opinion. Not only is public opinion, when focused by so skillful a hand as that of President Roosevelt, capable of forcing arbitration, but it is a satisfactory guarantee that the agreement when made will be kept faithfully by both sides to the controversy.

But while the office of the President, with all its effective authority, is used in that case, it is a well known fact that the President was considering other means for forcing an arbitration, had the mine operators declined to agree to lay their differences before a board of arbitration. The President not only has well defined powers that are constantly exercised, and with which the people are fully acquainted, but he has other still more important powers which he can exercise at his discretion in cases of great emergency, and which it was understood at the time of the great anthracite coal strike he considered using in order to bring relief to the suffering multitudes of the land. He may do many things for the "public good." That is an indefinite term allowing a wide interpretation, but he is sure people who believe that had the coal strike of 1902 continued a little longer the President would have declared martial law in the anthracite regions, and not only would have thrown troops into that section, but would have ordered the mining of the coal and its distribution to relieve the distress of the country.

But, according to assurances that have been given to the public, the mine operators will not be forced to the last, and while it seems but a sentimental belief it will be insisted upon by the miners, and it may eventually be made the cause of another strike, the fact is that in case of a strike, the public, in the last analysis, pays all the costs.

THE HUMAN FLY.

REMARKABLE EXPLOIT OF AWING HANGER WHO CLIMBS TALL BUILDINGS.

Witnessed by Gaping Multitude, He Ascended and Descended the Towering "Flatiron," Wife and Children Among Nervous Spectators.

There is a man who climbs the outer walls of the highest buildings and who uses neither rope, tackle nor scaling ladder. This man does not tell of his daring feats, nor has he a press agent to exploit his dizzy achievements. He performs this work in view of gaping multitudes who cheer and shout as this man goes up sheer walls, digging his tough and nimble toes into the interstices of the stone, calling a cornice or a window sill "climbing" himself up and doing other most venturesome acrobatic feats.

The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

THE WEATHER FORECAST.

In Spite of Rallies the Government Prophecies Remarkably Accurate.

Fifteen per cent. of error, said Chief Willis, in an interview. It is the record of the Weather Bureau. Not only is this proportion lower than in any foreign bureau, but in ten years not a criticism of its work, he adds, has come from any commercial, maritime or scientific organization. Unfortunately, if it does what it sets out to do, eighty-five times out of a hundred, the weather service ought to enjoy an enviable degree of popular esteem. What praise would be showered on a Congress that acted so gravely only 15 per cent. of the time?

In spite of the constant gibes directed at the Weather Bureau, there is undoubtedly among farmers and shippers an underlying sentiment of friendly interest in its forecasts. It has grown into a national joke that the forecasts are always wrong, just as Bostonians live invariably on a legend that the Philadelpians are always lethargic. But these whimsical articles of faith do not in the least affect the practical attitude toward a forecast, a Bostonian, or a Philadelphian.

Contrasting the attitude to the railing at the weather bureau is the activity of the long-range prophets. The superior usefulness of a forecast for next month over one for tomorrow being manifest, even sheer guesswork for the former period is a serious business to a scientific determination for the latter. Recently a moneyed individual, who had a serious interest in the best weather prophecy six months ahead. If the Government bureau would try for that and win it—and it ought to be able to guess as well as anybody—it would become the most popular institution in the country.

CONSUELO, DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH.

ments which have been made in the conditions under which women work in this country since I was last here. You know that I am deeply interested in this question of the betterment of the conditions of life for women. England is doing much in this direction, but it is to America that all look for leadership in movements of this kind, and I am happy to say that our hopes have not been disappointed."

The particular society in which the Duchess is interested is the Young Woman's Christian Association. She is to that organization in England what Helen Gould is to the Y. M. C. A. in this country—a patroness, generous of time, money and sympathy.

It is evident, however, that the Duchess sympathizes so out to the workers and the work along all the lines of betterment for women. She calls attention to the various associations and their enormous growth in membership, and to the change that has taken place in the position of woman in the world's work during the past sixty years.

Speaking of woman's efforts at emancipation and particularly of the famous meeting in Seneca Falls, N. Y., she says:

"The first woman's rights convention was held in this country in 1840. Three years later, a woman attempted to speak in a world's temperance convention in New York and it took her three hours to make a ten-minute speech because of the jeers and interruptions of the men delegates. Florence Nightingale, just about fifty years ago laid the foundation for the glorious work of the Red Cross in the hospitals in the Crimea.

Only the hardest dare face the disapproval of the public of that day.

But now the army of stenographers, clerks, physicians, preachers, social workers and business women attest the wonderful change in her status. To-day, given capacity, training and perseverance, there are few, if any, avenues of legitimate endeavor closed to woman. If now and then a few overlook the bounds of discretion and good taste, and thereby call down the censure of the better element, who knows but that it is the pendulum swinging a little farther—a rebound from the extremes of former days. The real balance will be maintained when woman is permitted to express her individuality and to live her own life.

A Lullaby.

Hush, baby, hush!

In the west there's a glory

With changes of amethyst, crimson and gold.

The Sun goes to bed like the King in gold.

Told by a poet of old.

Hush, baby, hush!

There's a wind on the river—

A sleepy old wind with a voice like a slab.

And he sings to the rushes that dreamily quiver.

Down where the ripples run by.

Hush, baby, hush!

Lambs are drowsily bleating

Down in cool meadows where daisy-buds grow.

And the echo, awary with all day repeating.

Has fallen asleep long ago.

Hush, baby, hush!

There are ladybirds calling

"Good-night" to each other on every breeze.

And the sweet baby moon has been failing and failing.

Till now she is caught in the trees.

Hush, baby, hush!

There are crickets were winging

Your way to the land that lies—no one knows where.

It is late, late, late; Mother's tired with singing.

Soon she will follow you there.

Hush, baby, hush!

E. O. COOKE.

A NEW SEA GIANT.

The new twin screw, America, which came sweeping into New York harbor the other day, after her maiden voyage, is one of those new leviathans of the deep, the dimensions and appointments of which would have perturbed even the owner of Aladdin's lamp, had he been able to produce such a result. The America is said to be the largest ship ever built for passenger service and is a sister to the Kaiser Auguste Victoria, now in progress of construction. The America is some 700 feet in length, 75 feet wide and over 50 feet deep. Her capacity is 23,000 tons, which is some 1,000 tons more than the tonnage of the famous Oregon, Captain Clark's great battle ship which made the long journey across the Horn in time to contribute to Cervera's defeat.

Although she is a passenger ship and has accommodation for 3,000 passengers and 600 crew, she has also a capacity of 16,000 tons of cargo. She can carry 2,300 stowage passengers, but she has also provision for passengers who have a little money to spend. One of her "imperial" suites for a voyage affording accommodation for six persons, can be secured for $2,500, or an average of about $60 a day for each person.

One of the novelties of the America is the electric passenger elevator which whisks the passengers up and down between the five decks of the ship. A Marconi wireless telegraph apparatus found on the America has now become an established feature of all large modern vessels.

The America, while not designed, it is stated, to be a record-breaker in speed, is driven by quadruple expansion engines of over 15,000 horse power and is scheduled to make the trip across in seven days.

THE FLATIRON BUILDING.

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

"Something held me fascinated, though, and I watched him coming down in a sort of crisis-cross fashion as quickly as a man would run down a staircase. I saw Lawrence, 'The Human Fly,' and the baby laughed and clapped his hands with joy. He didn't understand the danger, but he did, and he began to cry. I couldn't look any lower and I turned my head away. I could hear the noise of the great crowd that was watching him. I looked again, thinking he was on the sill, but by this time I had reached the floor and I had started climbing upward after I had turned away, and when I turned just up to the cornice. He looked like a little black fly against the white stone. He waved one hand and then began to move down. I watched him, but sometimes closed my eyes when it seemed that he had made a mistake. The crowd was so great that when he swung down to one of the store awnings I could only see his head drop and the slippers into the maze of men gathered about."

feats. The name of this man is John Garlick, and he is called "The Human Fly." His occupation is hanging and removing awnings. To do his work he simply walks up and down the outside of buildings while other workmen go from story to story by means of the stairway or the elevator.

John Garlick before he took up the trade of awning hanger was a sailor. He followed the sea from boyhood to manhood, and during his service on deep-sea sailing ships he learned to climb and cultivated his nerve.

A few years ago he was engaged in removing awnings from the Flatiron building, in New York. Broadway was choked with people watching the Human Fly at work. Incredible as it may seem, he climbed the sheer wall of that building from pavement to cornice, two hundred and eighty-six feet and down again.

Two years ago Garlick married. Naturally his wife wished him to quit seafaring. He got employment as an awning hanger and in that capacity he made his climbing skill pay. Though married five years his wife has never seen him at his work of scaling the outside of tall buildings until he understood the removal of awnings from the windows of the towering Flatiron building. "Until that time," said the lady to a reporter, "I never saw him at work. I know he was removing awnings from the Flatiron building, so I went over to Manhattan to meet him yesterday afternoon, and I took our two children, Lawrence, two and a half years old, and Hazel, four years old, and waited for John in front of the Bartholdi Hotel. Of course I never thought John would climb that frightfully tall building. I was standing there when one of the workmen, who knows me, came over and said: 'Your husband will be with you soon, he's just coming from the ninth story now.' I thought he meant John would be coming by the elevator, so I didn't look up to the windows.

"The workman told me to look up. I did, and I nearly fainted, for there was my husband with his hands on the sill of a window on the ninth story and his toes in the grooves between the stones. I was very dizzy and wanted to turn away.

AN INCIDENT OF THE SEPOY MUTINY

The old man looked up sharply. "There comes to every human being under the sun," said he, "in one shape or another the 'tide in his affairs' which, though it may not lead on to fortune, nor yet down to ruin, proves him, shows what is in him, brings out anything worth counting that may be latent in him, and exposes his weaknesses, too, often enough. That tide came to me in the terrible year—'57—which found us English folk, little handfuls of us, isolated, almost defenceless, facing the brown millions who for once were banded together against us by hate and wrath. I was an assistant deputy commissioner in a Godforsaken district in India, and had been so long alone among the natives that I could not speak half a dozen sentences of my own language without slipping in a word or two of Persian or Hindustani. I prided myself upon having my fingers on the pulse of the native life in that district. Things were going forward of which I could not get the hang. There was mystery in the air; you felt it, yet could find it no key.

"During those months I knew what it is to be possessed by a demon of fear. I told myself that it was all fancy; that Asia was playing the devil with me, that I was losing my nerve."

"I was in the deepest folds of the conspiracy when Harold came up into woman in India who mattered—of Mrs. Harold. With that thought came also the necessity for action, and when a man is called upon to act he is relieved from the curse of thinking.

"Harold's camp lay some thirty miles to the north of my station. As soon as the news spread the lives of Harold and his wife and sister would not be worth a minute's purchase. I slipped out of the bungalow, went to the stables, found and saddled my mare, locked the stables securely behind me and rode out into the darkness. I took a path which soon led me clear of the town, and directly I was in the open country I put the mare into a hard canter and headed for the Harolds' camp. The time for darning and for fear was ended, and I knew that the time for action had come and with it a sort of intoxication of recklessness that filled me with a fierce joy and pride.

"It was only a little after midnight that I reached my destination. I contrived, not without difficulty, to arouse Harold. I led him away from the tents, and told him the news that had come in.

"'You mustn't lose a second,' I said. 'The one chance of safety lies in Mrs. Harold and your getting to the fort as soon as may be.'

"'And do you seriously believe all this rubbish?' Harold inquired, staid into the hearts of his hearers. He was forecasting the downfall of the British Raj.

"I glanced over my shoulder at Harold, and I saw that he had grown white, white to the lips, and that his bridge-hand was trembling.

"A native in the crowd yelled something in a raucous, falsetto voice, and I caught the words at once.

"Your fellows down country have mutilated and killed their officers," I cried to Harold. "Did you hear what that man said?"

"God help us, God help us," he exclaimed in that same hoarse, tense voice. "Let us get on—to the fort—to the fort."

"A great strapping Muhammadan, a butcher in a red turban, leaped from the crowd and seized the rein of Mrs. Harold's horse with one hand. The other he held close to his chest. The horse reared. I rose in my stirrups, my loaded riding crop and brought the butt down full between the fellow's eyes. He dropped like a log.

"Get on to the fort, Harold, in God's name, and take the ladies with you," I cried breathlessly, for now I was aware of about me with that heavy but, and the pie, screaming with fear, were tumbling over one another in the darkness to get beyond the reach of my arm.

"I caught a glimpse of Mrs. Harold's face, flushed with excitement, her eyes shining with enthusiasm and a sort of fierce delight.

"Oh, how splendid of you!" she cried. "How splendid!" and then she and Harold and his sister were off, at a gallop up the hill toward the fort, Harold leading.

"The crowd had fallen back before me, and I rode straight at the Muhammadan preacher. I hit him, as I had hit the butcher, full between the eyes, and I felt the bones shatter beneath the blow.

"You dogs!" I cried. "You dogs who dare to back because fools tell you that the Raj of the British is ended, set to your knees like the whipped curs you are. And when sense returns to you, come to me at the fort, saying the word I sent word to the government of the wickedness in your hearts, and the hide be stripped from you in punishment!"

"And then, why then, and it brings tears to my eyes when I recall it, for you are men, these Muhammadans of India, though like children they be easily led astray or misled as a man may choose to lead them—the crowd set up a throaty shout, not of rage or defiance, but of approval and admiration.

"It is well done!" cried many voices. It is well done, and behold our Salib is a man. Let the Raj stand or fall elsewhere, here the Raj and our Salib are one; and, here, the Salib stands while the fool who spoke vain things lies yonder in the dust. It is in truth well done.

"I turned my horse slowly and walked him up the hill to the fort. For me at that moment the world held only one thing—Mrs. Harold's scream—and that too, I said, 'It is well done,' and I think also 'thank you.'

"After that there came some anxious times, but in the end mine was one of the district that had no mutiny here. Harold's nerve had been shaken by that scene in the town, and the worst of it was that he couldn't get it back and it is his wife to see it.

"At last it was safe for them to leave, and I thanked God for it, though I didn't seem to do much to get it back. He had gone out of it. Anyway, I knew it was the only thing for me, it was to avoid making a fool of myself, and she—well, she was everything but a woman ought to be.

"The evening before they were to go away I came upon her sitting in the veranda of my bungalow—we had heard me, he'd been to play the man's part, and she'd been to speak of all, she was pleased to say, they owed her a great deal to her.

"'Don't,' I said. 'It is I who owe a debt—to you. It is you who have helped me, helped me to play the man's part, and she'd been to speak of all, she was pleased to say, they owed her a great deal to her.'

"I don't think you wanted much help to do that," she said very seriously. "It is a matter we were on our feet, facing one another, and her hands were in mine. I knew then, I know now, that I might have kissed her. But it would have hurt her."

"Instead I stooped and kissed her forehead, and God keep you," I said, and turning, left her.

"That, I know now, was my greatest moment of all—a moment that might so easily have been spoiled for her, for me."

"So now instead I have my memories—memories of things done, and one priceless memory of a thing left undone; and now, as I sit here waiting for the end, they give me all I ask of happiness and of contentment."—Cornhill Magazine.

Never Wore Pajamas.
At a function on Main street a bashful young lady was taken in to dinner by an elderly professor who was a bit deaf. To start conversation, she said: "Professor, do you like hamanas?" "Yes, my dear lady," he answered, "but I think I prefer the old fashioned night shirt."

Had a Strong Breath.
An Irishman leaned over the counter in a jewelry store and said to the clerk, "Give me one of your best wedding rings." "Eighteen karats?" he was asked. "No, at nine karats, but I want it of your infernal business!"

AMONG WILD BEASTS.

Crocodiles, Lions and Hippopotami Endanger Lives of Railway Builders in Africa.

The building of the bridge at Victoria Falls and the Cape to Cairo Railway has suddenly and necessarily brought a great many people together at this spot, where there was previously but an occasional traveler or hunter. Besides the birds and the butterflies and the fish, the chief living animals were lions, elephants, hippopotami, crocodiles, jackals and hyenas.

The crocodiles were found to be so numerous—as many as thirty belag men together sometimes—that they have had to be killed in great numbers for the safety of the people at that work. One giant avarian killed a man and a woman, and was itself killed only after seizing another man. A native woman was taking water from the river when the crocodile knocked her in with its tail, seized her in its horrid mouth and dragged her away. Her husband was close by, but was powerless to save her. He determined to be avenged, however, and for several nights waited in a canoe with a loaded gun. He, too, disappeared, and it is thought the crocodile knocked him out of the canoe as it had knocked his wife off the bank, and taken him to its hole.

A week later it got another man, but instead of taking him into its hole, it carried him to an island. Here its victim got hold of the reeds with its strong claws, and held on so tightly that the crocodile could not get away with him. Of course he screamed with all his might, and a gang of men with crow-bars went to rescue him. This they succeeded in doing, and all in slaying the dangerous monster. These crocodiles are so ravenous that it is not possible even to keep dogs with safety, and parents living near the river are in constant dread of losing their children.

A Lion Terror.

One of the lions killed had also filled up the measure of its iniquity ere it met its doom. The house of its predations was a native village some distance north of the Falls. The native huts are very slender, being built mainly of reeds. In such a hut a woman was sitting when the lion pushed under the door, walked in and seized her, carrying her away to his lair in the dense bush. Then he had an ox. This was in the enclosure with other cattle and donkeys.

The lion, failing to get into the enclosure, so frightened the animal that it attempted that they rushed in a building, terrified mass went out to end and their weight upon the palisaded border. I don't know. They ran out through the opening, which was just what the lion wanted, for he had now nothing to do but to take his choice. After the ox, he selected a donkey on his next visit, and then a sheep, and finally another ox. At last the natives became panic stricken until some white men reassured them, telling them they were safe, and that the lion had been shot.

The lion came and got away with another ox, for the white men were in the bush, and the lion was asleep. However, they were able to track him.

It was important that having promised to kill the lion they should do so, for that is the secret of the white man's power over the natives—never to break his word. So they set off to the thick bush half a mile away, whither the lion's track led them. There he came upon him and killed him with one bullet, that entered the right nostril. This was what big game hunters consider a good kill, as the bullet did not disfigure the lion nor injure his skin. Near by was the carcass of an ox, and a little further in the bush in a sort of tunnel of impenetrable branches the grained bones—the remains of some of his former victims.

Tame Baby Hippopotamus.

A young hippopotamus, riding on its mother's back when she was shot, was saved and cared for by one of the men. These animals are very docile, and can be tamed. They are sometimes tamed by one of the men, and then the native paddlers do all they can to reach the bank, unless it

COFFEE

DOES HURT

Make the trial yourself—leave off Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure builder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. — Remember

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," free on request.

THE RACYLE SPROCKETS

Like No. 2 Grindstones are Hung Between the Bearings

Which Stone will Turn Easier?
The Racyle Rides Further with one-quarter less work

MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.
MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

OLDSMOBILES

for 1905

Highest Workmanship. Lowest Prices.

Cars for Immediate Delivery.

Olds Motor Works

DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co.

GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE
In a 10-hp. engine are made in the following sizes: 2, 3, and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America
(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

my district to look, bringing his wife and sister with him. I did not know him from Adam, and I had not seen a European lady for some time. I was a bit bothered by the intrusion. I felt shy and awkward in the company of ladies, and I was not used to ship the party off into a corner of the district where game was plentiful, as soon as I could contrive the means of necessary arrangements. I did not care much for Harold, nor yet for his sister, but Mrs. Harold charmed and fascinated me. Harold was a man of a sort, and his sister turned up her nose at most things, including me. Mrs. Harold was—well, just everything that a woman can be! Beautiful, with a sort of glory of beauty that yet had in her words above you, and good—yes, her eyes—kind, in thought and deed.

The Harolds had been gone a matter of some three weeks when the news reached me of the outbreak down country. I was sitting of my veranda, smoking my pipe and dreaming, when Hajj Muhammad Akbar, one of the leading natives of the place, came to me suddenly out of the luminous darkness of the night. He was shaking with excitement as he told me of the mutiny of our troops down north of the rapidly with which the district was spreading.

"The disaffection spreadeth fast. This very night is known in our bazaars; to-morrow the villages also will know. Then, perhaps—who knows save Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate?—the Raj of the Shahiblog will have its ending in blood, as in blood it also had its beginning, nor will it be the turn of our women folk to be made chattels for the pleasure of new husbands."

"An old word fear led me and a great wrath alone remained. I rose from my chair and in an instant I had him by the throat.

"'Have a care, dog!' I cried, as I shook him to and fro while he gasped and whined and struggled. 'The Raj of the Shahiblog is not yet ended, and if blood is to be let, see that it be not thine! In this district I am the Raj of the English.'

"I threw him from me, half strangled, and in a moment he was all shyness and entreaty.

"Be gone!" I cried, spurning him with my foot. He turned and went, gathering and whining excuses, dropped back into the darkness.

"When he had gone I stood for an instant dazed in a world that had of a sudden been shattered about my head. I realized the situation. I was in a white man's numbers in India to those of the people of the soil.

The words which I had heard from Akbar had spoken, hinting of the fate that awaited English women in India, shrouded as it were, in the thought of the one moment of all—a moment that might so easily have been spoiled for her, for me."

"So now instead I have my memories—memories of things done, and one priceless memory of a thing left undone; and now, as I sit here waiting for the end, they give me all I ask of happiness and of contentment."—Cornhill Magazine.

Never Wore Pajamas.
At a function on Main street a bashful young lady was taken in to dinner by an elderly professor who was a bit deaf. To start conversation, she said: "Professor, do you like hamanas?" "Yes, my dear lady," he answered, "but I think I prefer the old fashioned night shirt."

Had a Strong Breath.
An Irishman leaned over the counter in a jewelry store and said to the clerk, "Give me one of your best wedding rings." "Eighteen karats?" he was asked. "No, at nine karats, but I want it of your infernal business!"

A Literary Kicker.
Charles Lamb once heard a burglar breaking in his house. He drew on his heavy hunting boots and with a candle went down stairs and confronted him in the act of putting the silver from the breakfast table into his bag. "What are you doing?" demanded the author. "I am hungry and am just getting something to eat," hesitatingly replied the thief. "Take a leg of lamb," stuttered the author, as he kicked him down the cellar stairs.

Another Version.
Mary had a little mule, in a jewelry store and said to the clerk, "Give me one of your best wedding rings." "Eighteen karats?" he was asked. "No, at nine karats, but I want it of your infernal business!"

THE AMERICAN GRAPE INDUSTRY.

A Great and Increasing Branch of Horticulture.

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL

"The grape is the poor man's fruit, especially one who has only a house lot or the smallest possible dimensions. The vineyard will extend and probably occupy every inch of ground underneath it and from that small space produce all the fruit his family can consume, while the vine effort, shade, and protection, and add beauty to his little home, occupying no space, either above or below the ground, and producing more fruit in less time and with less labor and attention than anything that was ever planted."

All of which is charming in truth, unless the phylloxera or the downy mildew or the aphid or the dry rot become apprentices to vine, or the chickens or small boys of the neighborhood steal all the grapes just as they are getting ripe.

Chickens, however, should be kept in pens, and if every small boy's father had a grape vine which furnished "all the fruit his family could consume," there would be no incentive to pilfer the neighbor's vines.

As for the downy mildew and the other ailments to which civilized grape vine are heir, horticultural investigations have shown that they can be combated with comparative ease by spraying, and not only prevented but the vine stimulated to give greater than normal production.

As a matter of fact, the grape industry in the United States when considered both as a large commercial proposition and as one where each man has his own vine, if not his tree, is one of a great deal of importance and of great interest.

Count Their Age by Centuries.

Although the production of its fruit is accountable for much that is unseemly and frivolous, the vine is itself an object of great age and dignity. It is not known how old the grape will grow in America, since we have not been here long enough to make the test, even had a vine been planted with the landing of Columbus. Pliny mentions an Old World grape vine 600 years of age. Some entire vineyards in Italy held good for 300 years and others in Burgundy produced for 400 years and more.

Seedling Grapes From One Vine.

Largest Grape Vine in the World, Santa Barbara, California.

vine are heir, horticultural investigations have shown that they can be combated with comparative ease by spraying, and not only prevented but the vine stimulated to give greater than normal production.

Count Their Age by Centuries.

Although the production of its fruit is accountable for much that is unseemly and frivolous, the vine is itself an object of great age and dignity. It is not known how old the grape will grow in America, since we have not been here long enough to make the test, even had a vine been planted with the landing of Columbus. Pliny mentions an Old World grape vine 600 years of age. Some entire vineyards in Italy held good for 300 years and others in Burgundy produced for 400 years and more.

Feeding Olio to the Navy.

Considerable of a sensation has developed over the furnishing to League Island navy yard Philadelphia of butter which analysis has proven to be simply oleomargarine colored with coal tar dye. Samples were taken from the government receiving ship Lancaster, several battle ships and cruisers and from the hospitals of the navy yard by agents of the Pennsylvania Dairy and Food Commission. Dr. Warren, the State Commissioner, declared them to be specimens of coal tar dye and after considerable controversy, at the instance of President Roosevelt, they were finally submitted to Dr. Wiley, the chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture, who in a full report has maintained Dr. Warren's findings. Secretary Wilson has referred the report to the President, who has, it is stated, called the attention of the Department of Justice to the matter. Several arrests have already been made.

The Size of a Great Tree.

The largest known grape vine in the world was planted in California in 1842. It has made a phenomenal growth. Beneath its spreading branches, which cover nearly half an acre, 500 persons can find protection from the sun's heat. It bears from six to ten tons of grapes for a crop of 100 years. The most important feature of grape growing, enormous quantities of table grapes are raised and by means of improved transportation facilities sent to all parts of the country. The Concord, the Delaware and the Niagara come from the North, the Scuppernon from the South and the Flame Tokay and other early raisin grapes from the Pacific coast.

The last census reported 12 States having in bearing over 2,000,000 vines each, California being first with 900,000 vines, New York second with Increasing Wealth in the West.

In commenting on the need which has hitherto manifested itself in the West for calling upon Eastern money centers for funds with which to move Western crops, a New York financial letter states that with conditions as they were ten years ago, the present record-breaking crop would have strained the capacity of the West to furnish sufficient funds. So greatly, however, has the wealth of the West increased and so large are the surplus reserves of the farmers that even with crops so stupendously small as those New York financiers have been hardly inconvenienced by the demands for funds. In a not distant future it is predicted the West of the Mississippi Valley and of the Missouri Valley as well will be found exclusively lending

Wine Tank as Big as a House.

The writer once climbed to the top of a single cask at Fresno, California, which contained 96,000 gallons of port wine. There are hundreds of casks throughout the State with a capacity of 50,000 gallons each. The annual raisin production of California amounts to about 100,000 pounds, while about 25,000,000 pounds of these raisin grapes are shipped East every year as table grapes.

Last year the Chautauqua district in New York produced 600,000 gallons of unforgotten grape juice.

These figures give some idea of our

SCUPPERNON WINERY, NORTH CAROLINA.

or advancing money with which to move the crops that are grown in the southern regions of the Southwest or the distant Northwest.

No expert can estimate accurately the gains that will come this year to the farmers, the surplus that will be left for them after paying expenses, which represents their profits. Some of the most experienced experts have ventured to estimate that the farmers of the United States this year as a whole will find themselves to the good by not less than $100,000,000, and possibly $100,000,000. These are the gains as well as those which the great transportation companies expect to receive for carrying the agricultural products from the harvest fields to the market to which the needs are separated from the National Bankers' Association at Washington. The United States as a whole ought to be richer by reason of the year's industry, agricultural and manufacturing and transportation, by an amount considerably in excess of a thousand millions.

GASOLINE POWER ENGINES.

Constitutes Great Saving in Horse and Man Power—Have Come Into General Use on Many Prosperous Farms and Homes.

Inexpensive, reliable power on the farm and around the home is becoming more and more desirable. These days when unskilled labor is so high and hard to procure, and when, when started practically take care of themselves, are rapidly supplanting steam engines and horse power, the operation of which requires constant attention. The difference in the cost of operating and the advantages starting at a moment's notice has advanced the popularity of gasoline engines where considerable power is required in contrast with other power devices.

About gasoline engines for use on the farms, while to-day we find many of them on up-to-date farms and small business plants. This growing interest has been brought about largely through the improvements that have been made by manufacturers during late years in simplifying the working parts of the engines so that the average man can operate them with the ease of an expert. As a matter of fact, a bright boy can handle a modern gasoline engine with but little teaching. Take the farmer who has never seen a gasoline engine and let him visit and stop one a few times and study some of the principles of operating it and in a few days he will be as familiar with its workings as he would with a team of horses or a tread-mill. There is no end to coal, wood to saw, feed to grind, corn to mill, water to pump, in fact a multitude of things that can be done with a gasoline engine at small expense.

A GRAPE BY-PRODUCT FACTORY.

Foreigners Refuse Colored Butters.

"Cool tar dyes," said Dr. Wiley, "are not fatally harmful, though by no means wholesome, and dairymen are permitted under the law to use such coloring matter to impart to their butter a rich yellow color. However, unnecessary, the Department of Agriculture is now trying to educate the popular taste in favor of uncolored butter, and we are making some headway. Over in Europe one never encounters colored butter in any of the hotel or first class markets. The people there have learned to distrust it. We are coming to this in the United States. To-day first-class hotels and fancy grocers will not buy butter that has a high color. Our dairymen and those that live well are also fighting shy of it, and as a result the dairymen are beginning to realize that the battle of coal tar dye is no longer a necessary adjunct to a successful dairy."

John Adams was the author of the motto, "E Pluribus Unum."

CHICKENS AS GARDENERS.

Can Be Taught to Pull Weeds and

"I see as how a scientific professor has trained a yaller dog to count ten an' answer fool questions," said the hired man to the tourist. "Why that ain't nothin'." I know an old feller back yere in th' Valley what beats that all to fenders. Begun raisin' chickens when he was a boy. I seen some luntans he had no bigger'n fleas an' game birds what c'd step over a six-foot fence. But that ain't nothin'! Last time I was down 't his place he had a hundred-acre farm an' 'bout ten thousand chickens, an' was raisin' track for early northern markets. Powerful big chickens they was, an' he had 'em trained so they'd work his farm for him. They wasn't a weed nor a blade of grass in that whole farm 'cep'n in the pastures. An' bugs? why they c'dn't a tater bug, nor a cut worm, nor even a cabbage flea get a foot inside o' that farm afore a chicken had 'em. An' that wasn't all. Them chickens c'd see at night. Guess he must 'n' crossed 'em with owls. Anyways, 'bout early frost, 'twas cold in the spring them chickens was out all night long, an' they c'd see an' 'bout 'em 'c'rythin' tender. Jest squat over the plants with their wings spread out an' there fill sun up. He had 'em comin' three weeks ahead o' anybody else. An' that wasn't all. When he planted his beets in turnips an' pampas he sowed 'em powerful thick an' as soon as they'd get up 'bout right size them chickens come along an' thin 'em out jest right. Fine eatin' for 'em, too. An' 'bout seven times they was c'uz up an' down the rows all day long scratchin' up the dirt an' keepin' 'em cultivated jest perfect. 'Wid this feller never had a bee in his bun' from one year end to another. An' 'bout 'em 'c'rythin' tender. Them was the stiddest luntans I ever see. But they didn't use no nests. Jest laid in reglar egg crates. An'

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Kirk's A Quarter of a Century of unflinching service is a green soap, consistency of paste, a perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles, will not injure the most highly polished surfaces. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry American Crown Soap in stock, send him name and address and we will send you yours at once. Put up in 10 lb. and 20 lb. pails.

SOAP

James S. Kirk & Company

CHICAGO, ILL.

BOOKS—BOOKS

We have published some good ones especially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,

St. Paul, Minn.

Well Drilling Machines

Over 70 sizes and styles for drilling either deep or shallow wells in any kind of soil or rock. Mounted on wheels or on skids. With engines or horse power. Strong, simple and durable. Any mechanic can operate them easily.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE

WILLIAM BROS., Ithaca, N. Y.

Marlin Repeaters

are the original solid frame repeating rifles. They feature a solid frame of metal between the shoulder and the butt, which makes them stronger and more reliable than any other repeating rifle. They are also lighter and more accurate than any other repeating rifle. They are made in three sizes: .22, .243 and .30.

The Marlin Firearms Co., New Haven, Conn.

Chinese "Cash."

Consular reports from China are to the effect that the prospect of a reform or rather revolution in the money system of that Empire is not very bright. In spite of the promises to that effect which have been made. There are a number of influential elements pointing the change which nations do venting the business in China have asked, among others the bankers who profit by the same kind of coins in different parts as well as the provincial officials who mint them. The money of the people is still brass and copper, and to introduce a new system will be difficult owing to the dread on the part of the public of anything new. Gold and silver may continue to control the price paid for exports, but copper and brass will for a long time govern production.

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of Standard Fruit

Thoroughly tested Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs, Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF

FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free. Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.

MISSOULA, MONTANA.

The Breckenridge News.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1905.

CHENAULT.

J. C. Brodie, who has been very ill of appendicitis, is improving.

J. F. Jarcoe was at Huntington the first of last week on business.

Miss Roberta Brodie, who has been visiting friends in Hardinsburg, has returned home.

The Halloween party given at the home of Misses Clara and Flora Ford was quite a success.

Mary Hayden, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hayden, died last week of dropsy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fannie Knoles, of Brandenburg, have been visiting friends and relatives here.

L. M. Mitchell and daughter, Mrs. Emma Logan, of Salt, came up recently to see J. C. Brodie.

Barry Cunningham has come to Louisville, where he will accept a position on a sugar plantation.

Will Hardiner, of Irvington, was over to see his twins, who are being reared by their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cunningham.

MCQUADY.

Reverend service began at the Baptist church last week.

Leo Tait has returned from a business trip to Louisville.

Scott Patterson, of Cloverport, has been visiting friends here.

Miss Artie Pate has accepted a position as clerk with Tait, Bates & Co.

Ernest McCabe and wife, of Irvington, have been visiting her sister, Mrs. L. H. Jare.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Potts, of Cloverport, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Potts.

Louise and Bro. are building an addition to their store and will soon put in a large stock of all goods.

Mrs. Lena McAllister, of Bard, Ky., who has been visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Sandbach, has returned home.

Mrs. Mary Moore and Miss Katie Drayton, of Henderson, have returned home after a visit to Mrs. Phila Atkins.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Risers" are pleasant to effect and perfect in action. They never gripe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by all drug stores.

BIG SPRING.

H. Meyer was in Louisville last week.

W. H. Moran is building his new smith shop.

Protracted meeting began at the Baptist church last week.

Mrs. Sallie Clarkson has sold her farm here to J. D. Barnett.

Rev. Russell has been conducting a protracted meeting at May's Grove.

Mrs. John D. Mosher was in Louisville last week visiting her parents.

Miss George Harrell, of Oestha, has been visiting Miss Zelma Stricker.

A rural free delivery route will be established between here and Vine Grove about January.

Mrs. John H. Moser has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. Williams, at West Point.

Mrs. Sallie Clarkson, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Stricker, has returned to her home in Elizabethtown.

The appearance of the Methodist church has been greatly improved by the addition of the vestibule and the interior being repainted and papered.

DUKES.

Miss Venable is quite ill.

Ayer's

What are your friends saying about you? That your gray hair makes you look old? And yet, you are not forty! Postpone this looking old.

Hair Vigor

Use Ayer's Hair Vigor and restore to your gray hair all the deep, dark, rich color of early life. Then be satisfied.

Ayer's Hair Vigor restores the natural color to my gray hair, and I am greatly pleased. I will prove it to all.

Miss E. J. Venable, Mechanicsville, N. Y.

for

Dark Hair

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Suffered for One Year—Water Caused Agony, Heat Intense Pain—Grew Worse Under Doctors—Could Not Do Any Housework.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"About a year ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time. At last they became so sore that I was unable to do any housework. If I put my hands in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook over the stove, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but his prescriptions were utterly useless. I gave him up and tried another, but without the least satisfaction. About six weeks ago I got my first relief when I purchased Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, being all that I used. (Signed) Mrs. Minnie Drew, 15 Dana St., Roxbury, Mass."

Soak the hands or feet in retiring in a strong hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment. The great skin cure. Wear on the hands during the night oil, loose gloves or bandage the feet lightly in oil, soft cotton or linen. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by all druggists and dealers. Write for full particulars to J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

ONE NIGHT TREATMENT For Sore Hands and Feet with Cuticura

Soak the hands or feet in retiring in a strong hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment. The great skin cure. Wear on the hands during the night oil, loose gloves or bandage the feet lightly in oil, soft cotton or linen. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by all druggists and dealers. Write for full particulars to J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

J. H. Basham took a load of wheat to Cloverport Thursday.

Several of the farmers around here have sold their tobacco.

Thos. Sepp, of Louisville, visited friends and relatives here last week.

Mrs. Ellen Basham visited her son, Harvey, at Elletts, on Saturday.

Miss Ida Johnson visited her cousin, Mrs. Grace Davis, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Chas. Burns were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson Saturday.

Johanna Johnson, Jennie and Bud Basham attended the singing school at Elizabethtown Saturday night.

Misses Estlin, Lynch and Tula Lamb, of Patterson, were the guests of Mrs. Jack Tindle Saturday.

Mrs. Nora Powers and little daughter, Virginia, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Newbury, several days last week.

Mrs. Emma Basham and sister-in-law, Miss Pearl Benson, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Basham at Goring Thursday.

Mrs. Ella Foster and little son, Floyd, of Owensboro, who have been visiting friends and relatives here for some time, returned home Monday.

RAYMOND.

James Arlt spent Saturday night and Sunday at Rhodela.

Roscoe Hendley came home Saturday night to remain several days.

Mrs. Hynden Bassel spent one day last week with her mother, Mrs. Thomas Hall.

E. A. Basham and Otto Mercer attended a box supper at Rhodela Saturday night.

Will Sprites came up from Davison Friday to be with his father a few days.

Mrs. Mollie Ates and daughter, Miss Gertrude, and Mrs. Jess Knott were in Brandenburg last week shopping.

Rev. E. B. English held his regular appointment Saturday, but, on account of the rain, there was no preaching Sunday.

MYSTIC.

S. W. Banc has shipped two hundred-heads of tobacco.

Herbert Haddock, of Clifton Mills, has returned home from California.

Frank Macy has returned home from West Virginia after a stay of about a year.

Mrs. J. M. Fitch and son, of Cloverport, have been visiting her brother, J. W. Keys.

Wesley Bryant, of Guston, is expected to move a saw mill to this neighborhood this week.

The protracted meeting at Walnut Grove church closed Sunday.

with seven or eight additions.

Mrs. Lee Shaw, of Louisville, visited her mother, Mrs. R. H. Beauchamp, the first of last week. Duddy.

IRVINGTON.

John Gardner, of Union Star, was here Friday.

C. V. Robertson, of Hardinsburg, was in town Friday.

Miss May Claycomb, of Louisville, is at home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McGee were in Louisville last week shopping.

D. S. Henry returned Wednesday to his home in Chattanooga, Tenn.

J. A. Hemmon returned Thursday from a three week's trip to Oklahoma.

Mrs. Harrie Giffland and son, Joe, left Friday for their home in Nashville.

Mrs. Fidelia Galloway returned Sunday from a visit to her son in Louisville.

Miss Lizzie Fisher has returned to her home at Henderson after a lengthy visit to her aunt.

Miss Rachel Miller is in Louisville visiting her sister, Miss Ida Mudd, for an indefinite stay.

Miss Mary Hale has returned to her home in Cloverport. After a visit to relatives and friends here.

W. D. Smith, of West View, was the guest of his brother, E. B. Smith, for a few days of last week.

R. E. Woods and Mr. Harlowe of Louisville, were the guests of D. C. Heron Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Edith Marshall was the guest of Miss Jennie Green last Friday and Saturday at Falls of Rough.

Mr. A. M. Hardaway will be at Irvington next week, beginning November 27 for the practice of dentistry.

Miss Mary Marshall and John Moore of Louisville, spent Sunday the guests of Miss Edith Marshall.

Dick Chapin, of Cloverport, has moved his family here and rented the cottage owned by Mrs. Galloway.

Little Eunice Simmons and cousin, Allen Cowley, returned Monday from a visit to relatives at Cloverport.

Claude Pemberton, of Elizabethtown, has purchased of Taylor Dowell & Son four mules and one horse for $750.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cunningham, of Owensboro, are with their daughter, Mrs. Will Gardner, for several days.

Mrs. G. E. Robertson, of Louisville, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Brown, returned Friday.

Will Gout was in Brandenburg Saturday and Sunday the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler.

Mrs. N. B. Northerton and family, Katharine, returned Friday from a ten days' visit to relatives at Louisville.

Mrs. L. L. Budy and daughter, Josie, returned last week from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Tony McCall, in Louisville.

The donation at the Methodist parsonage was a liberal one and pleasant fellowship was enjoyed with the pastor and his wife.

DRAMATIC CLUB ORGANIZED.

A dramatic club was organized at the home of Mrs. H. B. McCallahan on Monday afternoon. Study and entertainment are the objects.

BOY'S NOSE BROKEN.

During a game of ball last Tuesday at the public school, the fat accidently slipped from the hands of one of the boys and hit little James Stitt on the nose, breaking the member. At present he is doing very nicely.

HARMING ENTERTAINMENT.

One of the most charming Halloween entertainments given on Tuesday night of last week took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McGlothlin. Covers were laid for twenty. The decorations were novel and the favors elegant, the color scheme being pumpkin yellow. Those present were: Misses Eva Herndon, Nannie McGee, Essie Baker, Ella Hensley, Mabel McCallahan, Edith Marshall, Wilma Drury, J. Enell Cunningham, Eva McGlothlin, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chamberlain and Mrs. Nannie Witham, Messrs. H. H. Knapp and A. H. Sater.

FOOT BROKE. Ate a shredling ladder to the neighborhood.

Rev. Roe began a series of meetings Saturday morning.

W. H. Cain has sold his tobacco to Dr. J. M. Walker.

Miss Lulu Nunnely is the guest of Miss Alberta Drury.

Sunday was a very rainy day and small crowd at church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, Blainford are expected home this week.

Mrs. R. J. Cain and children are at the home of her parents.

There came a baby girl recently to J. D. Jordans who will stay.

Mrs. Ozine, of Chicago, continues the guest of Mrs. W. W. Keith.

Mrs. Chas. Drury has returned from her visit to relatives at Carrollton, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.

Talk is heard from out in the State of the Burley tobacco growers organizing and signing agreements to not grow any Burley next season. The trade is disposed to pay no attention to such matters, though there is little doubt that better prices would be obtained for tobacco if overproduction could be avoided.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone, 20,000 men are out of work, and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of India is suffering the horrors of famine. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the past seven or eight years have generally been good, with only shortage here and there.

James Webb was called to Roanoke, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.

Talk is heard from out in the State of the Burley tobacco growers organizing and signing agreements to not grow any Burley next season. The trade is disposed to pay no attention to such matters, though there is little doubt that better prices would be obtained for tobacco if overproduction could be avoided.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone, 20,000 men are out of work, and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of India is suffering the horrors of famine. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the past seven or eight years have generally been good, with only shortage here and there.

James Webb was called to Roanoke, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.

Talk is heard from out in the State of the Burley tobacco growers organizing and signing agreements to not grow any Burley next season. The trade is disposed to pay no attention to such matters, though there is little doubt that better prices would be obtained for tobacco if overproduction could be avoided.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone, 20,000 men are out of work, and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of India is suffering the horrors of famine. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the past seven or eight years have generally been good, with only shortage here and there.

James Webb was called to Roanoke, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.

Talk is heard from out in the State of the Burley tobacco growers organizing and signing agreements to not grow any Burley next season. The trade is disposed to pay no attention to such matters, though there is little doubt that better prices would be obtained for tobacco if overproduction could be avoided.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone, 20,000 men are out of work, and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of India is suffering the horrors of famine. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the past seven or eight years have generally been good, with only shortage here and there.

James Webb was called to Roanoke, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.

Talk is heard from out in the State of the Burley tobacco growers organizing and signing agreements to not grow any Burley next season. The trade is disposed to pay no attention to such matters, though there is little doubt that better prices would be obtained for tobacco if overproduction could be avoided.

The year 1905 will have a record as an abundant crop year. While this country is blessed with bountiful harvests, some sections of the world are not so fortunate. Spain is said to be suffering from the worst famine in her history. It is estimated that in Andalusia alone, 20,000 men are out of work, and that $10,000,000 will not be sufficient to relieve the terrible situation. Riots caused by hunger are of daily occurrence. A large section of India is suffering the horrors of famine. Crop shortages in some parts of Russia are also causing distress.

The United States has had three abundant crop years in succession, and crops for the past seven or eight years have generally been good, with only shortage here and there.

James Webb was called to Roanoke, Va., to see his father, who was very ill.

Miss Nora Board, of Irvington, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Nancy Board.

Miss Nannie Beauchamp, of Harned, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Kate Simmons.

Miss Blanche Whitworth has returned from a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Frank Bell, at Lebanon.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 4.—Receipts of new tobacco were rather liberal, and the sales this week were larger than usual for this season of the year. In fact, it has been some years since so much new crop has come to market this early. While values were well sustained on most grades, the average is not quite as high as last week, when a smaller number of hogheads were offered, this applying to both Burley and dark. The 75 hogheads of new Burley of forced average of $6.31, and the 100 of new dark averaged $5. Burley tobacco sold as high as $12.50, which is the best price for new crop thus far obtained, and dark tobacco brought as high as $7.00.

Offerings of new crop Burley were, as a rule, of unsatisfactory quality and condition, with a scarcity of color noted. There were some evidences of house burn to a greater extent than had been expected. The offerings later on, however, will probably show much better quality, and there is reason to believe that this crop contains a good percentage of color grades. Offerings of old Burley sold readily, the quality and condition being reasonably satisfactory. A good demand was noted for medium and good red leaf, while color grades were a few bids higher. Red smokers were irregular to lower.

The new dark offered was in most cases of poor quality, and the market showed considerable irregularity, especially for leaf. Lugs and trash were stronger. Sales of old dark were inconsequential, and the offerings of Green Rivers were small and the market unchanged.